TORNADO RIPS COUNTY, 3 WOMEN HURT

Twister Tales . . .

Harmon Schelb Aircraft and Auto Repair near Elsea's Trailer Court, suffered approximately $650 damages in yesterday's tornado.

In the words of Myron Schelb, "We were very lucky to get off with this minor damage. Being associated with flying and weather, we realized when we saw the oncoming clouds that we were in for a bad wind.

We all rushed out with additional ropes and tied down the planes. One plane suffered $150 damages to a wing. Our only other damage was a $500 sign that was blown to pieces."

Members of the firm worked all during the storm keeping watch on the planes. After the tornado subsided they assisted the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department in the wind-blown trailer court.

Telephones of local casualty insurance company agents were red hot today as persons began calling in their damages suffered in yesterday's tornado.

One insurance company reported 70 claims telephoned in by noon today. Damage was estimated at $200,000 as a result of the almost instantaneous puff of wind.

William F. Crist, local farmer of Route 4, Circleville, last night reported he had to shoot a 500 lb. cow as the result of yesterday's tornado.

The cow was in a back field of his farm on Route 22 east of Circleville, and directly in the path of the blow. The wind apparently knocked the animal down, breaking a leg.

Flanagan Motors' and "Wes" Edstrom Motors' wreckers were called to the scene of the tornado damage at Elsea's Trailer Court by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

The wreckers assisted in setting the overturned trailers back onto their wheels.

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department was on the scene within minutes and quickly investigated each overturned trailer for persons trapped inside.

In a short time everyone was accounted for except Mrs. Donald Pritchard, thought to be inside her overturned trailer. Deputy Sheriff John Wolford rumaged around the inside of the trailer and thought he spotted blood.

Wolford also noticed a hump in the overturned wall of the trailer and was afraid the woman was trapped under the "home on wheels." Wreckers immediately proceeded to right the trailer.

About this time Mrs. Pritchard appeared from a shopping trip in Circleville. The "blood" was found later to be catsup and the hump in the trailer was two outside fuel tanks.

Mrs. Margret Claar, 68, stated that she was babysitting for Mrs. Alice Steele who was at work at the local General Electric plant.

She was waiting for the Steele children to return from school when she noticed the imposing black and spinning clouds coming toward the trailer.

Just as Mrs. Claar reached for the door to escape the tornado's path, it struck, throwing her out the door and flipping the trailer over into the adjoining trailer owned by Mr. and Mrs. William Edwards.

Mrs. Claar was treated at Berger Hospital for lacerations of the right arm and released.

Immediately after the tornado struck and the damages were incurred, Robert Elsea, owner of the

Damage To Total About $200,000

A tornado ripped through Pickaway County at 3:20 p.m. yesterday, injuring three women and causing an estimated $200,000 property damage.

Hardest hit was the Elsea Trailer Court, just north of Circleville on old Route 23. There the hammer-like blow spun huge house trailers like tops. Seven of them overturned.

Most seriously injured was Mrs. Nannie Sue Jolly, 37, Elsea Trailer Court, who suffered fractured left ribs, possible fractured right ribs and many bruises. She was reported in "fair to good" condition in Berger Hospital today.

Others treated at Berger Hospital and released were Mrs. Margret Claar, 68, Elsea Trailer Court, who suffered a cut on her right arm and contusions, and Mrs. Bethel Burns, 21, Elsea Trailer Court, skin abrasions on the cheek and face and body bruises.

The low-flying tornado was heralded by a harsh rain. It struck first at Hayes Trailer Court on Route 104, just south of Darby Creek. The tornadic winds toppled two trailers there. No one was hurt.

IT MOVED IN a straight line, due east, hitting the Elsea Trailer Court, the Paul Valentine residence on Route 188 and the Pete Bowman farm on the East Ringgold - Southern Road, just north of Route 22, a distance of about seven or eight miles.

Observers said the deadly, dancing funnel moved with the speed and sound of a squadron of jet planes. Much of the time on its journey across the county it was low, resembling train smoke.

Untold numbers of trees were uprooted and torn off at the ground. Hundreds of residences were damaged slightly. In all 11 trailers were damaged seriously.

At noon today about 1,800 telephones in Circleville, Ashville, Laurelville and Amanda were still out of order. The three electric companies serving this area reported that service had been restored, except in the Darbyville area, by 4 a.m.

The Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. had 40 men working today on repairs. Company officials said that more men will be sent into Circleville if the situation warrants. Most services probably will be restored in a day or two, they reported.

About 50 men worked through the night restoring power service in the county. By morning they had started to clear tree limbs off wires where service had not been interrupted.

The damage was extensive throughout the county. At Derby four houses were damaged badly, many roofs and chimneys were ripped by high winds and power lines were down throughout the area.

Other spots throughout the county reported roofs torn from barns and windows blown from houses.

UNUSUAL HEAVY damage was reported in the Robtown area, between South Bloomfield and Darbyville, and around East Ringgold.

Insurance claims are expected to total about 300 in the county.

Ashville was hard hit. The wind seemed to split, one gust ramming down Main St. and another down Center Alley. Power was out from 4 p. m. to about 7 p. m.

Two farms, east of Ashville, were damaged extensively. They were owned by Warner Hedges and Pearl Ellis. A 60 by 40 foot shed was demolished on the Hedges farm and the roof was torn from a 19 by 58 foot barn.

Seven trailers overturned at the Elsea Trailer Court. They were owned by Melvin Hicks, Donald Pritchard, Ralph Burns, Nannie Sue Jolly, Albert Haines, Alice Steele and Harry Risher. Other trailers damaged were owned by William Edwards and George Winders.

Mrs. Claar had the narrowest escape from death. She was in the Steele trailer preparing to baby sit for Mrs. Steele as soon as the two Steele children arrived home from school.

She said she heard the wind, went to the trailer door to secure it. The trailer started to turn over. Mrs. Claar was tossed out the door and the wind flipped the trailer completely over her.

Mrs. Jolly was inside her trailer when the tornado struck. The trailer rolled over and Mrs. Jolly was thrown through a picture window, clear of the huge trailer.

Mrs. Burns said she was lying down when the tornado hit. She suffered bruises as she tossed about the inside of the trailer which came to rest on its top.

Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff witnessed the near - catastrophe. He was at his home on the Walnut Creek Pike, a short distance away from the trailer court. He said the storm "looked like train smoke, a heavy wind, rolling, timber and wood were flying through the air."

Another witness was Pete Bowman whose farm was damaged extensively. He said he was working on a tractor when the storm hit.

He said there were low gray

Algeria Sets Up Own Government

ALGIERS (AP)—What amounts to a revolutionary government for Algeria was set up today in defiance of Paris. It was established by a civilian-military junta set up here last week.

The new group demanded return of Gen. Charles de Gaule to the hem of the French government in place of "those idiots in Paris."

Meanwhile, in Paris, Premier Pierre Pflimlin went to the National Assembly today with an urgent request for constitutional reforms to strengthen his government against defiance in Algeria.

Pflimlin also had to take time to worry with new trouble in Tunisia. French Charge d'Affaires Jean-Pierre Benard hurried home from Tunis to report on several shooting incidents between Tunisian and French soldiers.

A communique addressed to Frenchmen of the world said their countrymen in Algeria are firmly resolved to install a French govover by De Gaulle.

THE COMMITTEE resolved to stay in office until De Gaulle takes command in Paris. De Gaulle has said twice in the last few days that he is ready to do so, but he has not been summoned.

The communique expressed determination to keep this North African territory tied to the motherland.

The committee named two co-chairman—paratrooper Brig. Gen. Jacques Massu, who took control in Algiers after the first riots against Pflimlin May 13; and Cherif Sidcara, a Moslem who held a high position in the government of Premier Felix Gaillard.

Massu's leading role on the committee was a sign that Gen. Raoul Salan, the French commander in chief in Algeria, would continue to be the supreme authority, at least in name.

Pflimlin ordered Salan to exercise the French government's authority in Algeria, but it has never become clear whether he is dictating to the insurgent French officers and settlers or they are telling him.

The new "Committee of Public Safety for Algeria and the Sahara" is composed of about 40 members. A number of subcommittees correspond to government ministries.

The committee held an initial closed session with Salan. At Salan's right was Jacques Soustelle DeGaullist leader in the French Parliament who left Paris last week to join the Algerian insurgent movement. But neither Salan nor Soustelle took a formal position on the new committee.

THERE SEEMS little doubt that a full-scale government is blooming here. Officials proclaim they intend to run their own show despite any interference "from those idiots in Paris."

There was no news here of the arrival of Gen. Henri Lorillot, a special envoy from Pflimlin. There were reports that Lorillot, new chief of the combined French military forces, might not be received. In Paris, a reliable source said that Lorillot had not left.

This Looks Like a Real Kids' Party

CHICAGO (AP)—It's going to be an all-night, all-next-day affair.

For some 900 students in Arlington Heights, the fun starts tonight when parents open their homes to the formally attired youngsters for soft drink parties. Then off to the school prom at the Medinah Country Club for dancing until 1 a. m.

The dancers return to Arlington Heights and will find church doors open to them for changing into more casual clothes for more rounds of activities.

They'll board a special 12-car train. Two baggage cars, cleared of all mail, will have been transformed into ballrooms, complete with a combo in each.

After a trip of about 50 miles, the train will arrive at Williams Bay, Wis., at about 6 a. m. The students will be taken across Lake Geneva to George Williams College for breakfast.

Boating, golfing, swimming and side tours of the area are on the program before the students board the train for home.

The party is sponsored by the PTA, civic groups and churches. Sponsors hope to beat any spur-of-the-moment decision graduates might have about touring night spots.

Last weekend the courts had been lined with string and ready for painting until some anonymous person ignored the strings and proceeded to play tennis, thereby running the painting plans. Citizens are asked to refrain from playing until the courts are painted.

A directors meeting will be held Tuesday in the Jaycee's lodge room in the IOOF Building. All new and old directors are asked to be present.

'A Horrible Sight'

Eye-Witness Says Tornado Clouds Looked Like Soot

"I saw the first trailer topple and I knew we were in for trouble.

"I thought it was train smoke until then.

"Thank God, the children were still in school."

Thus Mrs. Dee Winders described the tornado that ripped through the Elsea Trailer Court yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Winders watched the trailer - toppling tornado from her own trailer, just 25 yards from the devastated area.

"I was looking out the window when I realized it suddenly was turning darker. . .darker than I have ever seen it. Those black clouds reminded me of coal soot, except for all the wood and brush blowing around in them.

"After that first trailer went over, I shut my eyes for a second. I couldn't believe it. When I opened them again I saw Alice Steele's trailer flip over into the side of Edwards' trailer.

"After that one rolled over, the rest of them toppled over like pins in a bowling alley.

"It was a horrible sight. I was worried right then about the people who were trapped inside those trailers."

Mrs. Winders spoke through the broken window glass of her trailer. She then turned and patted two small boys, Harry and Dennis Risher.

"Thank God, school wasn't out yet."

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP) — "I've had gray hair for 30 years," the woman on the telephone said. "I washed it yesterday and now my hair is black. How come?"

Cold Front Blamed for Local Storm

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The cold front which moved across Ohio Thursday afternoon received the blame for the high winds and torrential rains, including a small tornado, that lashed the state.

The twister was reported in Fayette County just north of Washington C. H. Witnesses said the black funnel dipped out of the low-hanging clouds, struck a barn and then disappeared. Debris from the barn was scattered over a half-mile area. No one was injured.

Three women were injured, though, some 30 miles east of where the tornado was seen. The three, all residents of a Circleville trailer court, were hurt when winds, estimated at up to 80 m.p.h. swept through the area.

Seven trailers were turned over and several were demolished. Damage was estimated at between $50,000 and $60,000.

Mrs. Nanny Sue Jolly, 37, was thrown through a picture window in her trailer. Mrs. Bethel Burns, 21, and Mrs. Margaret Clair, 68, were the other two injured.

Mrs. Clair said she heard the storm approaching and went to the door of her trailer to look. She said the wind pulled her out and the trailer was picked up and tossed over her.

The weather bureau in Columbus said the storms developed locally as the cold front, followed by a high pressure area, moved across the state. They said winds of between 60 and 70 m.p.h. were reported around Sedalia in Madison County, and Dayton had gusts up to 50 m.p.h.

The rains dumped more than a half-inch accumulation on most central and southern Ohio areas. It also washed out the Cincinnati-Los Angeles baseball game and the harness racing program at Lebanon Raceway.

Solar-Heated House Owners Forced To Sell

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Some days the sun doesn't shine and some days you can't make a dime.

Sadly aware of this, the Association for Applied Solar Energy plans to sell its famed, but short-lived, solar house for $49,500.

The association has been beset by protests about commercial operations in a fashionable residential section and hemmed in by zoning ordinances.

The house went on display last month, billed as the nation's first solar-heated house and cooled home. It created a flurry of interest from scientists, architects and homebuilders.

But someone forgot to read the county zoning regulations.

Stop charging 85 cents admission.

Tear down all advertising signs.

End public tours of the house.

Stop operating an adjacent parking lot for sightseers.

We Need You All

Today, 208 Pickaway County high school seniors move away from the home ties and into the wide, wide world.

There will be complications ahead, but perhaps one of these seniors will be the answer to some of the problems besetting the world. We need them all. We need their vitality, vibrance and youth.

In presenting its County Commencement issue today, The Circleville Herald salutes these 208 and welcomes them to help us shoulder adult responsibilities.

Damage To Total About $200,000

A tornado ripped through Pickaway County at 3:20 p.m. yesterday, injuring three women and causing an estimated $200,000 property damage.

Hardest hit was the Elsea Trailer Court, just north of Circleville on old Route 23. There the hammer-like blow spun huge house trailers like tops. Seven of them overturned.

Most seriously injured was Mrs. Nannie Sue Jolly, 37, Elsea Trailer Court, who suffered fractured left ribs, possible fractured right ribs and many bruises. She was reported in "fair to good" condition in Berger Hospital today.

Others treated at Berger Hospital and released were Mrs. Margret Claar, 68, Elsea Trailer Court, who suffered a cut on her right arm and contusions, and Mrs. Bethel Burns, 21, Elsea Trailer Court, skin abrasions on the cheek and face and body bruises.

The low-flying tornado was heralded by a harsh rain. It struck first at Hayes Trailer Court on Route 104, just south of Darby Creek. The tornadic winds toppled two trailers there. No one was hurt.

IT MOVED IN a straight line, due east, hitting the Elsea Trailer Court, the Paul Valentine residence on Route 188 and the Pete Bowman farm on the East Ringgold - Southern Road, just north of Route 22, a distance of about seven or eight miles.

Observers said the deadly, dancing funnel moved with the speed and sound of a squadron of jet planes. Much of the time on its journey across the county it was low, resembling train smoke.

Untold numbers of trees were uprooted and torn off at the ground. Hundreds of residences were damaged slightly. In all 11 trailers were damaged seriously.

At noon today about 1,800 telephones in Circleville, Ashville, Laurelville and Amanda were still out of order. The three electric companies serving this area reported that service had been restored, except in the Darbyville area, by 4 a.m.

The Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. had 40 men working today on repairs. Company officials said that more men will be sent into Circleville if the situation warrants. Most services propably will be restored in a day or two, they reported.

About 50 men worked through the night restoring power service in the county. By morning they had started to clear tree limbs off wires where service had not been interrupted.

The damage was extensive throughout the county. At Derby four houses were damaged badly, many roofs and chimneys were ripped by high winds and power lines were down throughout the area.

Other spots throughout the county reported roofs torn from barns and windows blown from houses.

UNUSUAL HEAVY damage was reported in the Robtown area, between South Bloomfield and Darbyville, and around East Ringgold.

Insurance claims are expected to total about 300 in the county.

Ashville was hard hit. The wind seemed to split, one gust ramming down Main St. and another down Center Alley. Power was out from 4 p. m. to about 7 p. m.

Two farms, east of Ashville, were damaged extensively. They were owned by Warner Hedges and Pearl Ellis. A 60 by 40 foot shed was demolished on the Hedges farm and the roof was torn from a 19 by 58 foot barn.

Mrs. Jolly was inside her trailer when the tornado struck. The trailer rolled over and Mrs. Jolly was thrown through a picture window, clear of the huge trailer.

Mrs. Burns said she was lying down when the tornado hit. She suffered bruises as she tossed about the inside of the trailer which came to rest on its top.

THE HICKS, Pritchards, Haines, Richers and Edwards were away from their trailers at the time.

Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff witnessed the near - catastrophe. He was at his home on the Walnut Creek Pike, a short distance away from the trailer court. He said the storm "looked like train smoke, a heavy wind, rolling, timber and wood were flying through the air."

Another witness was Pete Bowman whose farm was damaged extensively. He said he was working on a tractor when the storm hit.

Frazier, chairman of the Ted Lewis Park Tennis Court Rehabilitation Committee, announced that the courts would be painted at 1 p. m. Sunday.

Last weekend the courts had been lined with string and ready for painting until some anonymous person ignored the strings and proceeded to play tennis, thereby running the painting plans. Citizens are asked to refrain from playing until the courts are painted.

A directors meeting will be held Tuesday in the Jaycee's lodge room in the IOOF Building. All new and old directors are asked to be present.

Ed Frericks was crowned the 1958 Jaycee Golf Champion. Frericks mastered two opponents for the title after waiting out the sudden tornado late yesterday afternoon.

'A Horrible Sight'

Eye-Witness Says Tornado Clouds Looked Like Soot

"I saw the first trailer topple and I knew we were in for trouble.

"I thought it was train smoke until then.

"Thank God, the children were still in school."

Thus Mrs. Dee Winders described the tornado that ripped through the Elsea Trailer Court yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Winders watched the trailer - toppling tornado from her own trailer, just 25 yards from the devastated area.

"I was looking out the window when I realized it suddenly was turning darker. . .darker than I have ever seen it. Those black clouds reminded me of coal soot, except for all the wood and brush blowing around in them.

"After that first trailer went over, I shut my eyes for a second. I couldn't believe it. When I opened them again I saw Alice Steele's trailer flip over into the side of Edwards' trailer.

"After that one rolled over, the rest of them toppled over like pins in a bowling alley.

"It was a horrible sight. I was worried right then about the people who were trapped inside those trailers."

Mrs. Winders spoke through the broken window glass of her trailer. She then turned and patted two small boys, Harry and Dennis Risher.

"Thank God, school wasn't out yet."

Gnadenhutten '9' To Meet Goshen

COLUMBUS (AP) — Goshen and Gnadenhutten today reached the finals in the state Class A baseball tournament being played at Ohio State University.

Gnadenhutten (Tuscarawas County) boosted its season record to 17-0 with a 3-1 victory over Northwestern (Wayne County) and Goshen (Clermont County) ran its season mark to 15-0 with a 7-0 win over Elida of Allen County.

Goshen's win came behind the pitching of Bill Faul who limited Elida to one hit, a single in the third. Faul, who owns a 12-0 season mark, will also pitch Saturday against Gnadenhutten.

City Water Makes Hair Turn Black

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP) — "I've had gray hair for 30 years," the woman on the telephone said. "I washed it yesterday and now my hair is black. How come?"

Water Supt. John J. Meehan said the complaint was one of several hundred he received Thursday while the city's water mains were being cleaned out.

We Need You All

Today, 208 Pickaway County high school seniors move away from the home ties and into the wide, wide world.

There will be complications ahead, but perhaps one of these seniors will be the answer to some of the problems besetting the world. We need them all. We need their vitality, vibrance and youth.

In presenting its County Commencement issue today, The Circleville Herald salutes these 208 and welcomes them to help us shoulder adult responsibilities.

Cold Front Blamed for Local Storm

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The cold front which moved across Ohio Thursday afternoon received the blame for the high winds and torrential rains, including a small tornado, that lashed the state.

The twister was reported in Fayette County just north of Washington C. H. Witnesses said the black funnel dipped out of the low-hanging clouds, struck a barn and then disappeared. Debris from the barn was scattered over a half-mile area. No one was injured.

Three women were injured, though, some 30 miles east of where the tornado was seen. The three, all residents of a Circleville trailer court, were hurt when winds, estimated at up to 80 m.p.h. swept through the area.

Seven trailers were turned over and several were demolished. Damage was estimated at between $50,000 and $60,000.

Mrs. Nanny Sue Jolly, 37, was thrown through a picture window in her trailer. Mrs. Bethel Burns, 21, and Mrs. Margaret Clair, 68, were the other two injured.

Mrs. Clair said she heard the storm approaching and went to the door of her trailer to look. She said the wind pulled her out and the trailer was picked up and tossed over her.

The weather bureau in Columbus said the storms developed locally as the cold front, followed by a high pressure area, moved across the state. They said winds of between 60 and 70 m.p.h. were reported around Sedalia in Madison County, and Dayton had gusts up to 50 m.p.h.

The rains dumped more than a half-inch accumulation on most central and southern Ohio areas. It also washed out the Cincinnati-Los Angeles baseball game and the harness racing program at Lebanon Raceway.

Solar-Heated House Owners Forced To Sell

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Some days the sun doesn't shine and some days you can't make a dime.

Sadly aware of this, the Association for Applied Solar Energy plans to sell its famed, but short-lived, solar house for $49,500.

The association has been beset by protests about commercial operations in a fashionable residential section and hemmed in by zoning ordinances.

The house went on display last month, billed as the nation's first solar-heated house and cooled home. It created a flurry of interest from scientists, architects and homebuilders.

But someone forgot to read the county zoning regulations.

Stop charging 85 cents admission.

Tear down all advertising signs.

End public tours of the house.

Stop operating an adjacent parking lot for sightseers.

Stock Mart Active; Some Issues Climb

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved a bit higher in active trading early this afternoon as tobaccos recovered.

Coppers also were in good demand and higher. Steels and motors showed slight change. Rails edged ahead on average.

Leading stocks gained from fractions to about a point. Many were unchanged or showed very slight changes.

The tobaccos recouped part of their sharp losses of Thursday when a tobacco marketing official was quoted as saying a three-year study of smoking and lung cancer might touch off a new "health scare." This statement was denied by an official of the National Institutes of Health who said that he will report in London July 8 on a three-year study of all causes of death of veterans having U.S. government life insurance.

Oils, aircrafts, chemicals, airlines and most motion pictures also posted gains.

Lorillard canceled half of its two-point loss of Thursday. American Tobacco remained a point of a 3⅛ loss.

Kennecott and Anaconda each added about a point. Phelps Dodge was firm.

Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet rose fractions.

Union Carbide rose better than a point. Gains of around a point were made by Goodyear, Western Union, Chesapeake Ohio, Amerada and Eastern Air Lines. Du Pont slipped about a point. Paramount and Southern Railway were other losers.

U.S. government bonds were unchanged to slightly lower.

HST, Adlai Point to GOP's 'Mess'

CHICAGO (AP) — Harry S. Truman and Adlai Stevenson told cheering Democrats Thursday night that the Eisenhower administration is making a mess of things at home and abroad.

"When I think about the mess that's being made in Washington, I almost explode," the former President said. "We must do something before it is too late."

Stevenson, twice defeated Democratic presidential nominee, also speaking of the "mess" in Washington, said: "Well, we've really got one now, and they've made it worldwide; it's our best export commodity."

The party's top leaders, speakers at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner sponsored by the Cook County (Chicago) Democrats, were cheered by more than 2,500 persons.

Truman listed a series of "adversities" he said the GOP brought down on the country. They are, he said: reduced farm income, the rising cost of living, increased unemployment, a boost in business failures, a climbing budget deficit, permitting "disaster to threaten us from abroad" and slowing the economy to a point where shrinkage appears.

34 Cuban-Yanks Face Sentencing

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Thirty-four Cuban-Americans were convicted Thursday of conspiracy to run arms to Cuban rebels.

Federal Judge James V. Allred said formal sentencing would be held Saturday. Most of the men are New Yorkers.

The 60-ton vessel Orion was captured by U.S. government agents a few miles off Brownsville in the Gulf of Mexico last March. It carried some $20,000 worth of arms and ammunition.

clouds and high dark ones. The low gray clouds were moving like a jet plane, he said, and passed under the high clouds. Then, Bowman reported, the low clouds passed and it was comparatively light for a short period, but it started to rain.

He said he ran for his house, but the wind hit before he got inside. The tornado ripped up seven trees, demolished a 35-foot silo, completely disintegrated a 20 by 60-foot shed and a 90 by 40-foot corn crib, moved a milk cooler house about five feet off its foundation and tore about two-thirds of the roof from the main barn.

The 35-foot silo fell on Bowman's 1958 Oldsmobile station wagon, crushing the rear end.

In Ashville damage was done to houses and buildings owned by Floyd Hooks, George McDowell, Addie Squires, William Fisher and Hershel Hoover. A tree fell across Hoover's house on Randolph St. Another tree fell over a car owned by Eugene Borrer, parked at a service station on Main St.

EMERGANCY equipment was called to the Elsea Trailer Court immediately after the blow hit. The sheriff called out his auxiliary to patrol the area. Eighteen men reported for duty. They assisted in righting the trailers and guarded them until the owners took possession.

The area was roped off and spectators were refused entrance to the emmediate area until after dark. Traffic along old Route 23 was heavy. State Highway Patrolmen were called to control the hundreds of automobiles which carried sight-seers to the trailer court.

City police answered nearly 100 calls from persons reporting trees down and power lines broken. They spent most of their time opening up streets and removing obstructions.

I Say, Old Chap, That Was Quite A Popping Duel!

It resulted from an insulting word by 23-year-old Christopher Waddie during a drinking bout two weeks ago. Denis Cross, 20, handed him his card in accordance with the ancient traditions.

"Choose your weapons then," scoffed Waddie.

"Champagne corks at 10 paces," retorted Cross.

Each student was armed with three champagne bottles. A vigorous shake and pop went the first blow. Then another and an answering volley.

Cross was first to score a hit and "the honor of gentlemen was satisfied."

Lebanon Asks U.N. To Review Case

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Lebanon has asked an urgent meeting of the U.N. Security Council to take up her complaint that President Nasser's United Arab Republic is interfering in her two-week-old civil strife.

Lebanon charges that the U.A.R. is at least partially responsible for rioting since May 10. More than 200 persons have been killed in sporadic street and mountain warfare by the political opposition seeking to oust pro-Western President Camille Chamoun. The government now is in control.

trailer court, turned out the electricity and checked each overturned trailer for leaking gas pipes and fittings.

Kenneth Wilson assisted Elsea in shutting off a water valve that was flooding the area.

Within an hour after the tornado struck, the Pickaway County Sheriff's Auxiliary was on the scene, guarding the demolished trailers until the owners could claim them.

A deputy related chasing two potential looters from the inside of the Jolly trailer.

School children residing in the trailer court arrived on the scene within minutes after the disaster. Bus driver Wayne Martin had let the first five leave the bus before he realized the danger of fallen live wires and other hazards.

He immediately herded the children back into the bus and drove to the safety of the Elsea home, several hundred yards from the overturned trailers.

Defenbaugh's ambulances were among the first on the scene to transport the injured to Berger Hospital. They were manned by William Defenbaugh, Jack Wise and Donald Hough.

The Ohio Fuel Gas Co., Bob Litter Fuel & Heating Co., and the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. were called to the scene of the trailer court by the Sheriff's Department.

This morning the Pickaway County Red Cross was on hand, interviewing each distressed family and offering any available aid. Elsea was in the process of removing the demolished trailers, starting with the Risher trailer.

Donald R. Crist, 843 Atwater Ave., local Seven-Up distributor, stated his loaded truck was blown more than 100 feet by the blast of the tornado.

Crist was parked at Clay's Restaurant, north on U. S. Route 23, when the tornado struck. His truck began moving even though the emergency brake was on.

He rushed to the truck and finally for the door open. For several minutes he powered the booster brakes until it stopped. During these moments he had trouble breathing, he said.

Onlookers said they saw huge trees snapped into splinters like matchsticks by the terrific 80-mile-an-hour winds.

Thomas McGuire, 224 Lewis Rd., had his garage flattened by the tornado. According to observers the path of the blast turned after reaching U. S. Route 23 and swept down Lewis Road.

The first trailer to go down belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Risher, now of Stoutsville. The Rishers moved a month ago, but their sons, Harry and Dennis, waited for their father in the trailer each evening after school.

Yesterday they hadn't arrived from school when the tornado hit, and lucky for them. Witnesses said the Risher trailer was blown 60 feet in the air before coming to rest.

The trailer body came to earth 15 feet from its base with the inside of the trailer in shambles.

Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff said that if anyone had been in the trailer they probably would have been crushed by the heavy refrigerator and stove.

More than half an inch of rain fell during the first half an hour of 80-mile winds in the tornado. The heavy precipitation put Pickaway County ahead in the average monthly rainfall record. According to old-timers around Circleville, this was the fastest wind in many years and one of the few tornadoes that have occurred here.

The Scouts arrived within an hour after the tornado disaster struck and were ready and willing to assist county law enforcement agencies in guarding the trailers against looters or directing traffic.

They were told that everything was under control and that order had been obtained at the trailer court. Their gesture of help was much appreciated, police said.

12 Children Die in Canada Hospital Fire

WILLIAMS LAKE, B. C. (AP) — Twelve children perished and a number of persons were injured Thursday night when flames leveled an Indian reservation hospital west of here.

The fire was touched off by two unexplained explosions. Rescuers were virtually helpless from lack of firefighting equipment.

The hospital was located on the Anaham Indian reserve in British Columbia's wide Cariboo country

The children, one 8 and the others under 5 were members of the Anaham band of the Chilcotin Indians, who make their home on the Anaham reserve.

An undetermined number of persons, including the supervisor of the Roman Catholic hospital, were injured in the blaze, which flashed through the frame building.

The supervisor, Sister Mary of the Cross, 25, was burned severely on the hands and face when she tried to force her way into the burning building to rescue the children.

The hospital was operated by the Missionary Sisters of Christ the King. They minister to the medical and educational needs of the Indians on the Anaham reserve, one of Canada's largest.

Hubby's Sex Change Ruled as Not 'Cruel'

LONDON (AP) — A British judge ruled Thursday that a wife is not entitled to a divorce on grounds of cruelty just because her husband wants to become a woman.

The decision was handed down by Justice Sir William Davies in the case of Mrs. Constance Dolling. She sought a divorce on cruelty grounds from her husband, Victor — or, as he now prefers, "Victoria."

After a chid was born in May 1951, Davies said, the evidence showed the husband began to develop female characteristics.

HST, Adlai Point to GOP's 'Mess'

CHICAGO (AP) — Harry S. Truman and Adlai Stevenson told cheering Democrats Thursday night that the Eisenhower administration is making a mess of things at home and abroad.

"When I think about the mess that's being made in Washington, I almost explode," the former President said. "We must do something before it is too late."

Stevenson, twice defeated Democratic presidential nominee, also speaking of the "mess" in Washington, said: "Well, we've really got one now, and they've made it worldwide; it's our best export commodity."

The party's top leaders, speakers at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner sponsored by the Cook County (Chicago) Democrats, were cheered by more than 2,500 persons.

Truman listed a series of "adversities" he said the GOP brought down on the country. They are, he said: reduced farm income, the rising cost of living, increased unemployment, a boost in business failures, a climbing budget deficit, permitting "disaster to threaten us from abroad" and slowing the economy to a point where shrinkage appears.

34 Cuban-Yanks Face Sentencing

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Thirty-four Cuban-Americans were convicted Thursday of conspiracy to run arms to Cuban rebels.

Federal Judge James V. Allred said formal sentencing would be held Saturday. Most of the men are New Yorkers.

The 60-ton vessel Orion was captured by U.S. government agents a few miles off Brownsville in the Gulf of Mexico last March. It carried some $20,000 worth of arms and ammunition.

clouds and high dark ones. The low gray clouds were moving like a jet plane, he said, and passed under the high clouds. Then, Bowman reported, the low clouds passed and it was comparatively light for a short period, but it started to rain.

He said he ran for his house, but the wind hit before he got inside. The tornado ripped up seven trees, demolished a 35-foot silo, completely disintegrated a 20 by 60-foot shed and a 90 by 40-foot corn crib, moved a milk cooler house about five feet off its foundation and tore about two-thirds of the roof from the main barn.

The 35-foot silo fell on Bowman's 1958 Oldsmobile station wagon, crushing the rear end.

In Ashville damage was done to houses and buildings owned by Floyd Hooks, George McDowell, Addie Squires, William Fisher and Hershel Hoover. A tree fell across Hoover's house on Randolph St. Another tree fell over a car owned by Eugene Borrer, parked at a service station on Main St.

EMERGANCY equipment was called to the Elsea Trailer Court immediately after the blow hit. The sheriff called out his auxiliary to patrol the area. Eighteen men reported for duty. They assisted in righting the trailers and guarded them until the owners took possession.

The area was roped off and spectators were refused entrance to the emmediate area until after dark. Traffic along old Route 23 was heavy. State Highway Patrolmen were called to control the hundreds of automobiles which carried sight-seers to the trailer court.

City police answered nearly 100 calls from persons reporting trees down and power lines broken. They spent most of their time opening up streets and removing obstructions.

I Say, Old Chap, That Was Quite A Popping Duel!

It resulted from an insulting word by 23-year-old Christopher Waddie during a drinking bout two weeks ago. Denis Cross, 20, handed him his card in accordance with the ancient traditions.

"Choose your weapons then," scoffed Waddie.

"Champagne corks at 10 paces," retorted Cross.

Each student was armed with three champagne bottles. A vigorous shake and pop went the first blow. Then another and an answering volley.

Cross was first to score a hit and "the honor of gentlemen was satisfied."

Lebanon Asks U.N. To Review Case

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Lebanon has asked an urgent meeting of the U.N. Security Council to take up her complaint that President Nasser's United Arab Republic is interfering in her two-week-old civil strife.

Lebanon charges that the U.A.R. is at least partially responsible for rioting since May 10. More than 200 persons have been killed in sporadic street and mountain warfare by the political opposition seeking to oust pro-Western President Camille Chamoun. The government now is in control.

Tales of the Twister . . .

trailer court, turned out the electricity and checked each overturned trailer for leaking gas pipes and fittings.

Kenneth Wilson assisted Elsea in shutting off a water valve that was flooding the area.

Within an hour after the tornado struck, the Pickaway County Sheriff's Auxiliary was on the scene, guarding the demolished trailers until the owners could claim them.

A deputy related chasing two potential looters from the inside of the Jolly trailer.

School children residing in the trailer court arrived on the scene within minutes after the disaster. Bus driver Wayne Martin had let the first five leave the bus before he realized the danger of fallen live wires and other hazards.

He immediately herded the children back into the bus and drove to the safety of the Elsea home, several hundred yards from the overturned trailers.

Defenbaugh's ambulances were among the first on the scene to transport the injured to Berger Hospital. They were manned by William Defenbaugh, Jack Wise and Donald Hough.

The Ohio Fuel Gas Co., Bob Litter Fuel & Heating Co., and the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. were called to the scene of the trailer court by the Sheriff's Department.

This morning the Pickaway County Red Cross was on hand, interviewing each distressed family and offering any available aid. Elsea was in the process of removing the demolished trailers, starting with the Risher trailer.

Donald R. Crist, 843 Atwater Ave., local Seven-Up distributor, stated his loaded truck was blown more than 100 feet by the blast of the tornado.

Crist was parked at Clay's Restaurant, north on U. S. Route 23, when the tornado struck. His truck began moving even though the emergency brake was on.

He rushed to the truck and finally for the door open. For several minutes he powered the booster brakes until it stopped. During these moments he had trouble breathing, he said.

Onlookers said they saw huge trees snapped into splinters like matchsticks by the terrific 80-mile-an-hour winds.

Thomas McGuire, 224 Lewis Rd., had his garage flattened by the tornado. According to observers the path of the blast turned after reaching U. S. Route 23 and swept down Lewis Road.

The first trailer to go down belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Risher, now of Stoutsville. The Rishers moved a month ago, but their sons, Harry and Dennis, waited for their father in the trailer each evening after school.

Yesterday they hadn't arrived from school when the tornado hit, and lucky for them. Witnesses said the Risher trailer was blown 60 feet in the air before coming to rest.

The trailer body came to earth 15 feet from its base with the inside of the trailer in shambles.

Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff said that if anyone had been in the trailer they probably would have been crushed by the heavy refrigerator and stove.

More than half an inch of rain fell during the first half an hour of 80-mile winds in the tornado. The heavy precipitation put Pickaway County ahead in the average monthly rainfall record. According to old-timers around Circleville, this was the fastest wind in many years and one of the few tornadoes that have occurred here.

The Scouts arrived within an hour after the tornado disaster struck and were ready and willing to assist county law enforcement agencies in guarding the trailers against looters or directing traffic.

They were told that everything was under control and that order had been obtained at the trailer court. Their gesture of help was much appreciated, police said.

12 Children Die in Canada Hospital Fire

WILLIAMS LAKE, B. C. (AP) — Twelve children perished and a number of persons were injured Thursday night when flames leveled an Indian reservation hospital west of here.

The fire was touched off by two unexplained explosions. Rescuers were virtually helpless from lack of firefighting equipment.

The hospital was located on the Anaham Indian reserve in British Columbia's wide Cariboo country.

The children, one 8 and the others under 5 were members of the Chilcotin Indians, who make their home on the Anaham reserve.

An undetermined number of persons, including the supervisor of the Roman Catholic hospital, were injured in the blaze, which flashed through the frame building.

The supervisor, Sister Mary of the Cross, 25, was burned severely on the hands and face when she tried to force her way into the burning building to rescue the children.

The hospital was operated by the Missionary Sisters of Christ the King. They minister to the medical and educational needs of the Indians on the Anaham reserve, one of Canada's largest.

Pro-West Japanese Are Victors at Polls

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's Liberal-Democratic party returned to power today with a mandate to continue its strong ties with the West.

A record turnout of voters Thursday rebuffed the Socialist opposition's pleas for Japan to move closer to communism.

Complete unofficial returns gave Kishi's party 287 of the 467 seats in the House of Representatives,

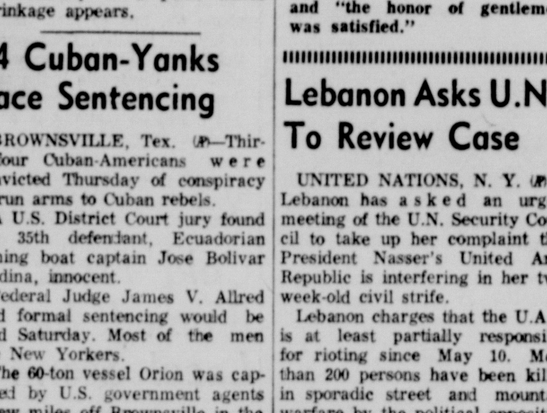

Hubby's Sex Change Ruled as Not 'Cruel'

LONDON (AP) — A British judge ruled Thursday that a wife is not entitled to a divorce on grounds of cruelty just because her husband wants to become a woman.

The decision was handed down by Justice Sir William Davies in the case of Mrs. Constance Dolling. She sought a divorce on cruelty grounds from her husband, Victor — or, as he now prefers, "Victoria."

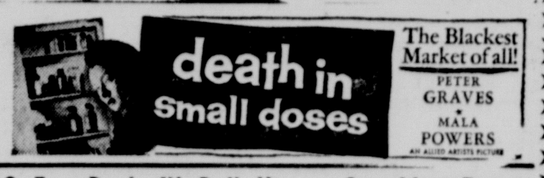

After a chid was born in May 1951, Davies said, the evidence showed the husband began to develop female characteristics.

Biblical Life-Saving Plan Being Advocated by Doctor

NEW YORK (AP)—A biblical technique for artificial respiration, largely discarded in favor of other methods, now is being advocated once more as the best, after all.

Under the age-old means of resuscitation, the rescuer simply breathes mouth to mouth directly into the lungs of an unconscious victim.

"It's as simple as blowing up a balloon," says Dr. Vincent J. Collins, president of the New York State Society of Anesthesiologists.

At Collins' urging, the New York State Medical Society has offically adopted the method as most effective. He hopes the American Medical Assn. will follow suit at a San Francisco meeting next month.

Countless lives can be saved if peop'e will acquaint themselves with the technique, Collins said.

He considers it three to four times as effective as other systems taught in years past, such as the back pressurearm lift and Schaefer plans.

It is so simple that a 9-year-old child can successfully revive an unconscious man weighing 250 pounds or more, Collins said.

Others describe it as "unequivacally superior" to manual techniques in all age groups, and the only one which assures that an adequate volume of air will enter the victim's lunge.

The Bible relates this account of its use in II Kings, 4:3234:

"And when Elisha was come into the house, behold, the child was dead, and laid upon his bed.

"He went in therefore, and shut the door upon them twain, and prayed unto the Lord.

"And he went up, and lay upon the child, and put his mouth upon his hands: and he stretched himself upon the child; and the flesh of the child waxed warm.

"Then he returned, and walked in the house to and fro; and went upon him: and the child sneezed several times, and the child opened his eyes."

Roof-Climbing Cop Finds Himself Trapped

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Patrolman Richard Tisell, searching a vacant building, climbed through an opening to the roof and jumped from a slanted portion of the roof to a lower section. Then he could not get back, nor did he find the suspicious loiterer he was looking for. He was rescued by firemen.

The supervisor's superior called Mrs. Lukman and asked her to return to work. The junior supervisor was transferred to another department.

Biblical Life-Saving Plan Being Advocated by Doctor

NEW YORK (AP)—A biblical technique for artificial respiration, largely discarded in favor of other methods, now is being advocated once more as the best, after all.

Under the age-old means of resuscitation, the rescuer simply breathes mouth to mouth directly into the lungs of an unconscious victim.

"It's as simple as blowing up a balloon," says Dr. Vincent J. Collins, president of the New York State Society of Anesthesiologists.

At Collins' urging, the New York State Medical Society has offically adopted the method as most effective. He hopes the American Medical Assn. will follow suit at a San Francisco meeting next month.

Countless lives can be saved if peop'e will acquaint themselves with the technique, Collins said.

He considers it three to four times as effective as other systems taught in years past, such as the back pressurearm lift and Schaefer plans.

It is so simple that a 9-year-old child can successfully revive an unconscious man weighing 250 pounds or more, Collins said.

Others describe it as "unequivacally superior" to manual techniques in all age groups, and the only one which assures that an adequate volume of air will enter the victim's lunge.

The Bible relates this account of its use in II Kings, 4:3234:

"And when Elisha was come into the house, behold, the child was dead, and laid upon his bed.

"He went in therefore, and shut the door upon them twain, and prayed unto the Lord.

"And he went up, and lay upon the child, and put his mouth upon his hands: and he stretched himself upon the child; and the flesh of the child waxed warm.

"Then he returned, and walked in the house to and fro; and went upon him: and the child sneezed several times, and the child opened his eyes."

A New 'Fall of France'

One of the most painful memories of the twentieth century is that of those few short weeks after May 10, 1940, when France literally fell apart before the invading armies of nazi Germany.

Who can forget the astonishing news that the "impregnable" Maginot Line had been bypassed, or the constant stream of bulletins that the French had stabilized their positions, only to be followed by proof that the German panzer divisions were already miles deeper into the stricken country?

Only 18 years later the world seems to be going through another "fall of France," in a completely different way but nevertheless just as tragic.

Like a leaky water-soaked paper boat, France is coming apart at the seams, just as she did under the hammering of the German wehrmacht in May of 1940.

Aand now, as then, the tragedy is only a culmination of repeated follies by the French themselves. Then it was corrupt government and a blind reliance on outmoded methods of defense— plus communist infiltration. Now it is a constitutionally weak form of government plus a fatally soft-headed nostalgia for past glories of empire— plus communist infiltration —that have taken the nation from debacle to debacle.

Yet the friends of France can only watch in grief and despair, as helpless as when France was writhing in another agony in that other month of May.

Satellite Sweepstakes Race

In the heavyweight division of the satellite sweepstakes, Soviet science is still the champion. The Russians strengthened their claim to this title by the successful launching of a third sputnik weighing one and a half tons.

Whether the Soviet sputniks are collecting 100 or 1,000 times as much scientific data as U. S. baby moons is doubtful. While the Russians have not shared the information they have gathered as freely as has this country, the list of scientific objectives set for their third spuṅik does not sound radically different to a layman's ear from those listed for our more modest satellites.

Where the Soviet scientists do have a lead is in their ability to hurl sizable hunks of hardware into the sky. This suggests that they possess rockets enormously more powerful than anything this country has available.

That is enough to worry about for the moment. And the fact that the Russians have done it again with a still heavier moon should be enough to dispel any complacency Americans may have fallen into as a result of holding the title, for just one month, to the only man-made occupants of space.

The Soviet Union, first into outer space, still holds the lead in this branch of science. Sputnik III is a reminder of that hard fact.

Fear of Napoleonism in France

By George Sokolsky

The social and political revolution in Europe and in the Western world, since the French Revolution, has been to find a method of government in which the whole nation would exercise the right of choice and at the same time avoid anarchy.

The French Revolution failed because of Napoleonism. France has never been able to overcome its fear of another Napoleon. Again and again, military leaders arose to lead France to glory but the French people have resisted the temptation. France's curious form of government, proportional representation with multiple parties, is a product of the fear of Napoleonism—a fear which has been aggravated by the emergence of dictators subsequent to World War I—Mussolini, Hitler, Stalin, Franco, to mention only the important ones.

It is for this reason that de Gaulle has been feared. Ordinarily de Gaulle would have been regarded as one of France's great heroes. His maintenance of a French Government-in-Exile during World War II; his rebuilding of the French army while the war was in process; his rejection of the blandishments of Vichy; his insistence that conquered France must be regarded as a primary power and given equality of treatment with the United States, Great Britain and Soviet Russia —these were heroic acts.

But he was not invited to Yalta because he had irritated Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin, who had found him temperamentally difficult to work with. Churchill said that de Gaulle suffered from an inferiority complex. At any rate, it would have been impossible to save any part of Germany if de Gaulle had governed France during the postwar period.

At the end of the war, de Gaulle had been elected the head of the Provisional Government of France with the unanimous confidence of the French people. But he could not last. When de Gaulle fell, he retired sulking to his country home. France was trying during 1945 to write a new constitution which de Gaulle opposed. As a matter of fact, the reason that proportional representation and multiple parties continued in France is that de Gaulle's opposition to a reasonable constitution in 1946 forced the people to take sides on the constitutional question and out of fear of Napoleonism, they voted de Gaulle down.

The Communist Party, under the leadership of Thorez, took advantage of the fear of Napoleonism to run an anti-Fascist campaign which gave them enormous power in France. In the election of November 10, 1946, the Communists won 163 seats—a gain of 18 seats.

De Gaulle's unfriendliness to President Roosevelt arose from the unwillingness of Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin to have de Gaulle at Yalta. Roosevelt had declined de Gaulle's invitation to visit him in Paris and instead proposed that de Gaulle visit Roosevelt in Algiers, which de Gaulle declined. De Gaulle was also not invited to the Potsdam Conference. This conversation took place between Stalin and Roosevelt at Yalta and is reported by Charles Bohlen in the official archives:

"Marshal Stalin replied that he had not found de Gaulle a very complicated person, but he felt he was unrealistic in the sense that France had not done very much fighting in this war and de Gaulle demanded full rights with the Americans, British and Russians who had done the burden of the fighting.

"The President then described his conversation with de Gaulle in Casablanca two years ago when de Gaulle compared himself with Joan of Arc as the spiritual leader of France and with Clemenceau as the political leader."

President Roosevelt then did something he should not have done. Bohlen reports:

"The President said he would now tell the Marshal something indiscreet, since he would not wish to say it in front of Prime Minister Churchill, namely that the British for two years have had the idea of artificially building up France into a strong power which would have 200,000 troops on the eastern border of France to hold the line for the period required to assemble a strong British army. He said the British were a peculiar people and wished to have their cake and eat it too."

Then this occurred:

"Marshal Stalin inquired whether the President thought France should have a zone of occupation, and for what reason.

"The President said he thought it was not a bad idea, but he added that it was only out of kindness.

"Both Marshal Stalin and Mr. Molotov spoke up vigorously and said that would be the only reason to give France a zone. . ."

Politically de Gaulle was faced by what looked like humiliation for France.

Mosquito Problem Concern

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Mosquitoes are pretty much like the weather: everybody talks about them, but nobody does a great deal about them.

Oh, I know that many communities conduct extensive mosquito control programs and many of these are highly successful. But except for slapping at one of the pests who happens to be biting you, most of you do little about ridding your own neighborhood of these hungry insects.

Mosquitoes are your enemies. From May until about October they make things pretty annoying for almost everyone who ventures outside.

Like an enemy, they should be stamped out as thoroughly as possible. Killing one or two here and there helps, of course, especially if accomplished early in the season. But you can do a lot more simply by eliminating any mosquito breeding places around your home.

Mosquitoes equire water. Because of this, you should remove all rain barrels, stagnant pools, even tin cans from around your home. In short, get rid of anything that can collect water.

Although mosquitoes do not actually reproduce in shrubbery and tall grass, they frequently can be found nesting there.

Best way to keep them out of your house, of course, is to keep windows and doors screened. As an added precaution, you can spray the screens with aerosols such as DDT and pyrethrum.

These aerosols are also good for spraying the inside of the house. For best results, close all windows and doors tightly while you spray and keep them closed for about 15 minutes after you have finished the job.

This will give the insecticide enough time to destroy the insects wherever they may be hiding.

A little thought early in the season will prevent a lot of annoying itching later on.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the midst of recession, living costs have risen to a new peak. They rose again from March to April. They are 3½ per cent higher than a year ago. The government said so Thursday.

Living costs are figured out by the staff of Ewan Clague, the Labor Department's commissioner of labor statistics, who has teams of people checking prices around the country every month in 46 cities and towns.

In a recent statement he estimated as many as 2,000 different products or services are bought by the average American family. From those 2,000 his field staff checks the prices of the 300 most important items.

The findings are reported to Washington. Clague's staff here breaks them down and analyzes them. The result is what is known as the consumer price index which is the record of living costs.

The 300 items or samples include over 80 foods, apparel of all kinds, rents, home ownership costs, public transportation, automobiles and their operating costs, reading and recreation, personal care and so on.

The index can be divided into three major groups: (1) foods, (2) commodities and other than foods and (3) services of all kinds. What goes into them and what happens to them can be taken one at a time:

Foods—This group ranges from fresh vegetables to meats. There is a lot of fluctuation in prices in the food division for many reasons. One important one now is bad weather which hampered the growing of certain items, created shortages and thus forced up the prices. Clague, explaining the continued price rise in fresh fruits and vegetables, said people are eating more of them and continue to buy even when the prices rise.

Services—These include items of personal care, like haircuts, permanents, street carfares, recreation items such as movies, doctors' fees and hospital costs.

Clague pointed out the prices of these are heavily influenced by law and by custom. For example: streetcar fares can be changed only when approved by a public service commission.

"The price of a haircut or a visit to a doctor's office," Clague noted, "is governed to some extent by custom. They change slowly but, when once raised, they usually stay there.

"For the past 20 years the prices of the services represented in the index have climbed slowly but steadily. They will continue to do so for some time to come."

Commodities other than foods—in this group are both soft and durable goods. The soft goods include such items as clothing, shoes, house furnishings, household supplies, gasoline, and so on.

This group as a whole, according to Clague, ordinarily shows the influence of the spring and fall seasons in apparel prices. To put it another way:

Clothing prices go down in January and February, in the after-Christmas sales, and in July and August, when summer sales take place. They go up in March, when the new spring lines are introduced, and up in September when fall clothing comes in.

The durable goods—such as automobiles, furniture, household appliances, TV and radio — show seasonal influences too.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the midst of recession, living costs have risen to a new peak. They rose again from March to April. They are 3½ per cent higher than a year ago. The government said so Thursday.

Living costs are figured out by the staff of Ewan Clague, the Labor Department's commissioner of labor statistics, who has teams of people checking prices around the country every month in 46 cities and towns.

In a recent statement he estimated as many as 2,000 different products or services are bought by the average American family. From those 2,000 his field staff checks the prices of the 300 most important items.

The findings are reported to Washington. Clague's staff here breaks them down and analyzes them. The result is what is known as the consumer price index which is the record of living costs.

The 300 items or samples include over 80 foods, apparel of all kinds, rents, home ownership costs, public transportation, automobiles and their operating costs, reading and recreation, personal care and so on.

The index can be divided into three major groups: (1) foods, (2) commodities and other than foods and (3) services of all kinds. What goes into them and what happens to them can be taken one at a time:

Foods—This group ranges from fresh vegetables to meats. There is a lot of fluctuation in prices in the food division for many reasons. One important one now is bad weather which hampered the growing of certain items, created shortages and thus forced up the prices. Clague, explaining the continued price rise in fresh fruits and vegetables, said people are eating more of them and continue to buy even when the prices rise.

Services—These include items of personal care, like haircuts, permanents, street carfares, recreation items such as movies, doctors' fees and hospital costs.

Clague pointed out the prices of these are heavily influenced by law and by custom. For example: streetcar fares can be changed only when approved by a public service commission.

"The price of a haircut or a visit to a doctor's office," Clague noted, "is governed to some extent by custom. They change slowly but, when once raised, they usually stay there.

"For the past 20 years the prices of the services represented in the index have climbed slowly but steadily. They will continue to do so for some time to come."

Commodities other than foods—in this group are both soft and durable goods. The soft goods include such items as clothing, shoes, house furnishings, household supplies, gasoline, and so on.

This group as a whole, according to Clague, ordinarily shows the influence of the spring and fall seasons in apparel prices. To put it another way:

Clothing prices go down in January and February, in the after-Christmas sales, and in July and August, when summer sales take place. They go up in March, when the new spring lines are introduced, and up in September when fall clothing comes in.

The durable goods—such as automobiles, furniture, household appliances, TV and radio — show seasonal influences too.

'Azaleas and Camellias' Topic for Garden Club

"Azaleas and Camellias" was the subject of a movie enjoyed by the members of the Circleville Garden Club who met at the home of Mrs. Donald H. Watt, N. Court St.

The culture of azaleas and camellias is alike in that both need good drainage and plenty of moisture. A good compost soil is necessary for both. The camellia must be fertilized frequently. Azaleas which bloom from early to late spring require broken shade.

The Strawberry root beetle is the worst enemy of the camellia and attacks the roots and leaves. McConoughey recommended Botano to combat this insect. Thrips, mealy bug and leaf gall are enemies of the azalea. A good all purpose insecticide is recommended, such as Isotex.

Many lovely varieties of both azaleas and camellias were shown and they justly deserve the name "jewels of winter and spring gardens."

Following the movie, McConoughey answered questions asked by members concerning pest control and feeding of all garden plants.

A nominating committee consisting of Mr. Floyd Bartley, Mrs. Roy Wood and Mrs. George Myers will present a slate of officers at the next meeting.

Bartley announced that Christmas card scrapbooks made by the members had been delivered to Children's Hospital in Columbus.

Mrs. Hal Dickinson reported on a regional meeting which she attended May 14 at Westerville with Mr. Bartley and Mrs. Kelson Bower. They enjoyed hearing Mr. Carlton Lees of Kingwood Center speak on flower show procedure.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Joseph Clarridge, Mrs. George Myers and Mrs. Watt.

Interior Decorating Topic Presented by Mrs. Measamer

The country home of Mrs. R. V. Hamman was the setting for a talk on Interior Decorating by Mrs. E. G. Measamer, Circleville, Monday night, when the Sorosis Club held its regular meeting.

Mrs. Hamman's home adapts itself to the Early American furnishings, many of them antiques.

Mrs. Measamer told how Period Styles started and how furniture trends were influenced by the countries with whom Americans traded and by the people who came from other countries to live here. She also warned that selections of furniture requires much study and thought before purchasing.

She was presented to the group by Mrs. Ted F. Corcoran.

Mrs. Edward Gahm presided at the business session. The club voted to donate to the Multiple Sclerosis Fund and to the Vacation Bible School.

The club also honored the charter members, several of whom were present as this is the 40th year of the club. Carnation corsages were presented to Mrs. Roy Sampson, Mrs. Russell McDill, Mrs. Edna Newhouse, Mrs. Russell Wardell and Mrs. Fred L. Tipton.

Guests present at the meeting were: Mrs. James Hamman, Mrs. Raymond Myers, Mrs. Roger May, Mrs. Lester Wolford, Mrs. John Wolford, Mrs. H. H. Swope and Mrs. Measamer.

There were 32 members present. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Robert Barnes, Mrs. Ray Horch, Mrs. Russell McDill, Mrs. Ulin McGhee, Mrs. Edna Newhouse, Mrs. Carl Hunsinger and Mrs. Hamman.

'Azaleas and Camellias' Topic for Garden Club

"Azaleas and Camellias" was the subject of a movie enjoyed by the members of the Circleville Garden Club who met at the home of Mrs. Donald H. Watt, N. Court St.

The culture of azaleas and camellias is alike in that both need good drainage and plenty of moisture. A good compost soil is necessary for both. The camellia must be fertilized frequently. Azaleas which bloom from early to late spring require broken shade.

The Strawberry root beetle is the worst enemy of the camellia and attacks the roots and leaves. McConoughey recommended Botano to combat this insect. Thrips, mealy bug and leaf gall are enemies of the azalea. A good all purpose insecticide is recommended, such as Isotex.

Many lovely varieties of both azaleas and camellias were shown and they justly deserve the name "jewels of winter and spring gardens."

Following the movie, McConoughey answered questions asked by members concerning pest control and feeding of all garden plants.

A nominating committee consisting of Mr. Floyd Bartley, Mrs. Roy Wood and Mrs. George Myers will present a slate of officers at the next meeting.

Bartley announced that Christmas card scrapbooks made by the members had been delivered to Children's Hospital in Columbus.

Mrs. Hal Dickinson reported on a regional meeting which she attended May 14 at Westerville with Mr. Bartley and Mrs. Kelson Bower. They enjoyed hearing Mr. Carlton Lees of Kingwood Center speak on flower show procedure.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Joseph Clarridge, Mrs. George Myers and Mrs. Watt.

NEW YORK (AP) — History can be a record of hysteria. It is unlikely that hysteria will momentarily cause World War III.

The spokesmen of the two major world powers, the United States and the U.S.S.R., have been making angry noises at each other since the end of their mutual victory at the end of World War II.

Each probably feels himself bigger than he is, each is gnawed by inside as well as outside fears.

Each throws a larger shadow at the moment than either wants to have to live up to by force.

All around the world since the end of World War II people have looked at two menus—the bread they have, the bread they want.

In civilized as well as uncivilized countries the people have reached toward the bread they want. Their desire is the same. The method of reach varies. Agreement has made fewer headlines than violence. But has it given less bread?

Violence in human relations gives off a great boom in terms of sound. The real test in judging a change, is whether—after the echoes have died—the people who made the change feel it was worth the effort.

Would agreement without violence have cheated their dreams, their children, or themselves?

This is the way to weigh war:

Is the reward of going to it worth more than the cost of staying away from it?

In looking over previous civilizations and trying to figure out why they went to war, a Sidestreet Socrates, always asking questions, would have to query: "For this you were afraid?"

"Did you measure your tears? Did you go to war for a purpose or to escape from one boredom to another?"

"Why does peace lack the human cement of unity that war creates?"

I am optimist enough to feel in my heart and brains and bones that World War III isn't likely within 10 years.

Why?

Because:

1. The tumultuous reach for political liberty by the submerged peope of this earth is balanced by the desire of the so-called civilized people for a higher standard of living.

2. At least for another decade the powers that can now precipitate a major conflict have more to gain by landscaping their own lawns than they do by trying to tear the other guy's

Violence in human relations gives off a great boom in terms of sound. The real test in judging a change, is whether—after the echoes have died—the people who made the change feel it was worth the effort.

Would agreement without violence have cheated their dreams, their children, or themselves?

This is the way to weigh war:

Is the reward of going to it worth more than the cost of staying away from it?

In looking over previous civilizations and trying to figure out why they went to war, a Side-street Socrates, always asking questions, would have to query: "For this you were afraid?"

"Did you measure your tears? Did you go to war for a purpose or to escape from one boredom to another?"

"Why does peace lack the human cement of unity that war creates?"

I am optimist enough to feel in my heart and brains and bones that World War III isn't likely within 10 years.

Why?

Because:

1. The tumultuous reach for political liberty by the submerged peope of this earth is balanced by the desire of the so-called civilized people for a higher standard of living.

2. At least for another decade the powers that can now precipitate a major conflict have more to gain by landscaping their own lawns than they do by trying to tear the other guy's house down. They all know this.

There is season under the sun to build, and this is the season. One repairs his roof after the last hurricane, even though there may be another.

I have a poor man's faith that the man in the world's street is as of now more lonesome for improvement than disaster.

Ohio Coeds Create Gowns Worn by Our First Ladies

By FRANKLIN JOHNSON
Central Press Association Correspondent

SPRINGFIELD, O. — Coeds at Wittenberg College here are staging some of the most unusual style shows ever held.

There is not a sack dress in the lot, and no effort is made to have the latest thing, because these are all authentic reproductions of gowns worn by wives of the Presidents from Martha Washington, with her little "duster" cap, to Mamie Eisenhower's satin-covered-with-pearls creation worn to her first inauguration ball.

Each dress is an exact duplicate of the original in the First Ladies collection at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C., recreated by students in costume design classes at the college.

Actually, they are better than the originals though, because the goods are brand new and have had no chance to yellow with age, as have some of the originals. Cloth was chosen which is as exact a facsimile of that used by the wives of the Presidents as can be found on the market today.

Fill these re-creations of the most charming dresses worn by the nation's First Ladies for their biggest occasions with bright-eyed coeds, chosen because they match the sizes and general colorings of the original wearers, and you have a striking effect, indeed!

In fact, the display as a "live" fashion show has become so popular that the college had to put it on film in order to keep the demands on the coeds to show the dresses from being so extensive that their studies might suffer.

The idea of creating the unique Wittenberg collection belongs to Miss Leona Bowman, former head of the home economics department, who spent many weeks in Washington, making sketches and gathering information to enable her to direct the classes in duplicating the gowns exactly.

Mrs. Julian James of Washington, D. C., deserves credit for the Smithsonian's original collection, however. In 1900, she started trying to assemble the gowns, and traveled far and wide to persuade the descendants of the First Ladies to part with representative remnants of their wardrobes.

The collection has been one of the most popular displays in the Smithsonian for many years, and now it is custom for the mistresses of the White House to make sure that one of their favorite gowns is given to the Smithsonian for permanent showing.

So they can show off their re-creations to the very best advantage, the coed seamstresses and models make a thorough study of the woman whose taste dictated the choice of the gown in the first place.

The result is a fascinating panorama of changing styles in dress, and of the parade of feminine personalities in the White House. Martha Washington is the only one who wore anything on her head.

Abigail Adams, wife of President John Adams, was the first actually to occupy the presidential Daintiness marked choice of first and last First Ladies as indicated by the Martha Washington dress (left) worn by Barbara Ulery, and Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower's first inauguration gown, modeled by Connie Menka.

OHIO OUTDOORS

from THE OHIO DIVISION OF WILDLIFE

The Ohio Mid-Century Governor's Conference on Natural Resources, taking place in Columbus, May 14-15, will be one of the most high-powered conferences of its kind in the last fifty years.

Not since President Theodore Roosevelt's first Natural Resources Conference in May 1908, has there been arrayed such a large and talented group of individuals, whose sole aim is that of proper use, development and management of all our natural resources.

Over 55 of the top conservation men in the State of Ohio have been digging into the files of the past and present, to come up with fifty years of history and results, with which to judge and evaluate past actions and future needs in the field of conservation.

It would be impossible for any one person to pay for the time and talent that are being expended by these men to make this conference the most successful of its kind.

An easy way o do this is to look at only a few of the men from any one organization, and remember that there are over 70 participating organizations.

The Ohio Department of Natural Resources, headed by Colonel Herbert B. Eagon, is one of the principal organizations taking part in the Ohio Mid-Century Governor's Conference on Natural Resources.

Mr. Eagon is a member of the conference Steering Committee, and has been actively connected with conservation since 1948. During that year he was Supervisor of the Delaware County, Soil Conservation Board of District No. 4. He was Chairman of the board the year that they won the Goodyear Award for the State of Ohio given for conservation accomplishments.

He also is a past president of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts, a past vice-president of the Ohio Federation of Soil Conservation Districts and a former chairman of the Agriculture and Conservation Committee.

Colonel Eagon is at present a member of the Ohio Wildlife Council and is on the Board of Trustees of the Ohio Forestry Association.

THE PRESENT Chief of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources', Division of Wildlife, Hayden W. Olds, started as a game management employe in 1937 and since then has held positions as supervisor of the Federal Aid for Wildlife in North Carolina, Assistant Director of the North Carolina Conservation Department and Director of the Tennessee Fish and Game Commission. Mr. Olds will head the Task Force on Wildlife Resources at the Conference and also handle the discussion period on that subject during the second day.

The present Chief of the Department's, Division of Parks, V. W. Flickinger served as a landscape foreman in the Civilian Conservation Corps, prior to accepting the position of chief of lands and waters of the Iowa State Conservation Commission, in 1939. In that capacity he supervised Iowa's State Parks, State Forests and State-owned waters.

Flickinger is a founder of the Midwest State Park Assn. and served as its first President for a term of two years. He has served the National Conference on State Parks, as vice-president and president, and is currently a member of the Board of Directors. The Parks' Chief is an important member of the Task Force on outdoor recreation.

Kenneth Dotson, chief, division of lands and soil is a member of the Conference Task Force on Lands and Soil Resources. He has ten years service with the Soil Conservation Division as a Soil Scientist and Conservationist. Dotson started with the Division of Lands and Soil as Survey Party Chief in Clinton County, in 1952, moving up to Soil Supervisor in 1953; Assistant Chief in 1955 and Division Chief in July, 1957.

The Conference Task Force on Water Resources has the able help of C. V. Youngquist, Chief of the Ohio Division of Water. Mr. Youngquist first entered conservation work as a water engineer with the U. S. Geological Survey in 1928 to 1945. In 1945 Mr. Youngquist became Chief Engineer of the Ohio Water Resources Board and remained as Chief of the newly formed Ohio Division of Water in 1949.

The above named men are only a few of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources employes who are taking part in the Ohio Mid-Century Governor's Conference on Natural Resources. To name all, and their accomplishments would take a book.

THE conference Chairman Dr. Charles Dambach, Director of Natural Resources Institute, Ohio State University, is a former Chief of the Ohio Division of Wildlife. He is appreciative of the extra time and effort that has been necessary for these men to participate in a conference of this type.

In his own words, "The success of this conference will be due directly to the efforts of these men, and of the individuals from all other organizations. They are giving up what free time they might have, and are stealing time from their own duties, in the firm belief that this conference is important to the everyday life of each person in the State of Ohio."

The Ohio Mid-Century Governor's Conference on Natural Resources, taking place in Columbus, May 14-15, will be one of the most high-powered conferences of its kind in the last fifty years.

Not since President Theodore Roosevelt's first Natural Resources Conference in May 1908, has there been arrayed such a large and talented group of individuals, whose sole aim is that of proper use, development and management of all our natural resources.

Over 55 of the top conservation men in the State of Ohio have been digging into the files of the past and present, to come up with fifty years of history and results, with which to judge and evaluate past actions and future needs in the field of conservation.

It would be impossible for any one person to pay for the time and talent that are being expended by these men to make this conference the most successful of its kind.

An easy way o do this is to look at only a few of the men from any one organization, and remember that there are over 70 participating organizations.

The Ohio Department of Natural Resources, headed by Colonel Herbert B. Eagon, is one of the principal organizations taking part in the Ohio Mid-Century Governor's Conference on Natural Resources.

Mr. Eagon is a member of the conference Steering Committee, and has been actively connected with conservation since 1948. During that year he was Supervisor of the Delaware County, Soil Conservation Board of District No. 4. He was Chairman of the board the year that they won the Goodyear Award for the State of Ohio given for conservation accomplishments.

He also is a past president of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts, a past vice-president of the Ohio Federation of Soil Conservation Districts and a former chairman of the Agriculture and Conservation Committee.

Colonel Eagon is at present a member of the Ohio Wildlife Council and is on the Board of Trustees of the Ohio Forestry Association.

THE PRESENT Chief of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources', Division of Wildlife, Hayden W. Olds, started as a game management employe in 1937 and since then has held positions as supervisor of the Federal Aid for Wildlife in North Carolina, Assistant Director of the North Carolina Conservation Department and Director of the Tennessee Fish and Game Commission. Mr. Olds will head the Task Force on Wildlife Resources at the Conference and also handle the discussion period on that subject during the second day.

The present Chief of the Department's, Division of Parks, V. W. Flickinger served as a landscape foreman in the Civilian Conservation Corps, prior to accepting the position of chief of lands and waters of the Iowa State Conservation Commission, in 1939. In that capacity he supervised Iowa's State Parks, State Forests and State-owned waters.

Flickinger is a founder of the Midwest State Park Assn. and served as its first President for a term of two years. He has served the National Conference on State Parks, as vice-president and president, and is currently a member of the Board of Directors. The Parks' Chief is an important member of the Task Force on outdoor recreation.

Kenneth Dotson, chief, division of lands and soil is a member of the Conference Task Force on Lands and Soil Resources. He has ten years service with the Soil Conservation Division as a Soil Scientist and Conservationist. Dotson started with the Division of Lands and Soil as Survey Party Chief in Clinton County, in 1952, moving up to Soil Supervisor in 1953; Assistant Chief in 1955 and Division Chief in July, 1957.

The Conference Task Force on Water Resources has the able help of C. V. Youngquist, Chief of the Ohio Division of Water. Mr. Youngquist first entered conservation work as a water engineer with the U. S. Geological Survey in 1928 to 1945. In 1945 Mr. Youngquist became Chief Engineer of the Ohio Water Resources Board and remained as Chief of the newly formed Ohio Division of Water in 1949.

The above named men are only a few of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources employes who are taking part in the Ohio Mid-Century Governor's Conference on Natural Resources. To name all, and their accomplishments would take a book.

THE conference Chairman Dr. Charles Dambach, Director of Natural Resources Institute, Ohio State University, is a former Chief of the Ohio Division of Wildlife. He is appreciative of the extra time and effort that has been necessary for these men to participate in a conference of this type.

In his own words, "The success of this conference will be due directly to the efforts of these men, and of the individuals from all other organizations. They are giving up what free time they might have, and are stealing time from their own duties, in the firm belief that this conference is important to the everyday life of each person in the State of Ohio."

Strongsville, Ohio, was the birthplace of Dayton C. Miller, physicist who took the first surgical X-ray photographs in the United States.

Ohio is a leader in the production of gypsum which is used as a retarder for portland cement, and in plasters and wallboards.

$3.3 Million Job On U.S. 33 Gets OK

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Ohio Department of Highways today announced approval of $3.3 million project calling for relocating 4½ miles of U. S. 33 near Lancaster, making the new road four lanes wide. It will begin at the Fairfield-Hocking County line and extend to near Fairfield County Road 360.

Uhrichsville Highway Fuss To Be Settled

UHRICHSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The State Highway Department's program to get the barricades off the only truck route through Uhrichsville appeared to be rolling smoothly today.

Engineers were to begin preliminary plans today on reconstruction of an 1,800-foot stretch of highway carrying U. S. 250, U.S. 36 and Ohio 8. The plans must be completed before the project can be placed on the program of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

A department official said Thursday the project definitely has been approved by the bureau.

Temporary repairs, which should result in removal of the barricades that Mayor Jess Dempster ordered erected April 10, are in progress.

The city will pay 12.8 per cent of the $135,000 cost for rebuilding under the plan sent to the bureau. The federal government will pay two-thirds, and the state will pay the rest.

Dempster had ordered the barriers in place because he said the road was not safe and the city was unable to pay the 50 per cent originally demanded by the state for permanent repairs.

IN NEW FILM—A diamond valued at $500,000 is worn by actress Inger Stevens in the film, "The End of the World," now in production in Hollywood, Calif. The pear-shaped diamond, once owned by a maharajah of India, is the property of Harry Winston of New York. (International)

The People's Princess — That's Suga, 19, of Japan

TOKYO (AP)—A young farm boy working as a gardener in the Imperial Palace grounds got lost in the huge garden.

The bewildered youngster came across a young, pretty girl strolling alone in the garden, and asked her, "Please, miss, I'm ost. Tell me how I can get back to the exit."

The girl affably smiled and said, "All right, mister, follow me." The two walked a few minutes before they met the boy's father, an ancient palace worker. The old man trembled, bowing his head almost down to the earth, mumbling, "Your highness overwhelmed us with your extreme kindness."

Princess Suga smiled back, "You are welcome. See you around!"

When the idol of the Emperor and 90 million Japanese left, the old man literally flew into rage at the still bewidered boy: "You, idiot, swine, moron . . . Don't you know her highness? Oh, you have increased your poor father's white hairs five-fod in this one minute."

The story — officially denied by the Imperial Household spokesman but widely believed true—well illustrates why the 19-year-old beautiful princess is so popular in Japan.

Princess Suga's three elder sisters, now all married, would have never dreamed of walking alone in the palace grounds. Nor would they have thought of talking to unknown commoners.

Princess Suga, a trim and shapely 5-feet-4½, is a sophomore at the Gakushuin (Peers) College, majoring in English literature—the first daughter of a Japanese emperor ever to do so.

All her sisters were educated by tutors inside the Palace.

Although a schoolgirl, Princess Suga is considered one of Japan's loveliest and most brilliant women. She is also said to be Japan's most fastidiously dressed woman.

She goes shopping accompanied only by one lady-in-waiting to downtown department stores. She always orders medium prices dresses of her own designs, usually showing a copy of an American fashion magazine and saying, "Something like this, but changing this and that." She also has her hair set in the store's salon, dictating her own style.

Millions of Japanese bobby-soxers see her portraits carried in the newspapers and follow her hair-do and dress styles.

Princess Suga is also a good athlete, particularly adept at tennis and skiing.

She is often caled "Japan's Princess Margaret," although Princess Suga has not been romantically linked to anyone.

Husbands of her three sisters — ex-prince, ex-duke and ex-marquis —were chosen by the imperial family because of their backgrounds. If Princess Suga chooses her own — probably with support from her brother, Crown Prince Akihito, who is not too happy about rigid court protocol either — few Japanese will be surprised.

Her choice might even be a commoner.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: In 1953, in my native France, I married an American Air Force boy. I was 18 years old at the time and weighed 98 pounds. I am four feet, eleven inches tall. As long as I stayed in France I was always active in sports, and always stayed slim.

But since we returned to the United States in 1955 and I became a mother 30 months ago, I have grown fat. This is because I am completely inactive—no more basketball, no more dancing or other athletics. I don't do a thing, and now I weigh 120 pounds at age 23.

My legs are so heavy, my hips and arms so fleshy and my abdomen isn't flat any more. I am too young to look like this. I feel like an old person with rheumatism. I was much happier before.

Please tell me what to do. If I knew this city I would look for a basketball team my own age, but I don't. Also I don't know if it is considered correct in this country for a wife and mother to want to keep on being sportive. I need your kind advice.

C.B.

DEAR C.B.: Probably you have inherited a constitution that tends to be dumpy, after first youth. In which case you'll have to fight fat all your life, if you wish to stay lean and willowy.

As of now, you blame your overweight on inactivity. You say you aren't doing a thing since giving up basketball and dancing. But that can't be true if you have a child 30 months old. A child of runabout age keeps his mother (or nurse) on the move practically every moment the child is awake—and also during the child's daily naptime.

When the child is awake and at play, exercising himself, the mother is necessarily jumping to prevent mishaps, and also to keep abreast of her cooking, cleaning, mending and other housework. When the child is napping, mother is still busy as a rule, attending to chores that can't be managed with a child underfoot.

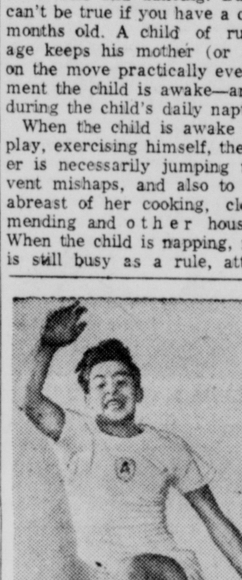

But back to the cause of your overweight. As I say, hereditary tendency contributes. But so does overeating—maybe not big meals, but snacks between meals and before going to bed. And boredom—which leads to nibbling when you aren't hungry, just for something pleasurable to do. And habit—such as ordering ice cream, or rich short cake, or other sweet tooth treats, when you find yourself near a soda fountain, during a shopping trip or after a show.

For advice: Write to the national headquarters of the Y.W.C.A., at 600 Lexington Avenue, New York 22, N.Y., for information as to whether there is a YWCA clubhouse in your town. Enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope for reply, and address your letter to "The Executive Secretary."

If your town has a branch, it probably offers a social program to meet your needs—of fellowship and games and study courses in good nutrition and figure control. So do yourself the favor of checking on that possibility. Another approach to the information you want is through the Family Service Agency there.

M.H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of this newspaper.

Correction Is Made On Man's Discharge

It was incorrectly stated in The Circleville Herald's Tuesday edition that Claude Godby, 31, of 116 Pinckney St., received a dishonorable discharge from the armed forces.

Godby had been discharged from Joliet Prison, Ill., not dishonorably discharged from the armed services. He is awaiting sentence in Pickaway County Jail, after being found guilty of auto theft and grand larceny by a county Common Pleas jury.

Career Girl Enjoying Cuba

Turn an American career girl loose in a foreign country and international relations start improving right away.

A case in point is pretty Florence Pritchett Smith, former model, fashion editor and radio commentator, now busily fostering good will as wife of the U.S. ambassador to Cuba, Earl E. T. Smith. In New York to promote a scholarship for talented young Cuban designers, this glamorous adjunct to the diplomatic service says:

"Everyone is being simply wonderful. (After seeing her, you can understand why.) I have six of the best-known fashion manufacturers, industrial designers and retailers in the country who will guarantee jobs to the scholarship winners in New York, and a comparable group in Cuba who will offer them equal salaries and opportunities to come back home after a year's study and a year's work here."

Florence was born in New Jersey, started work as a New York model at the age of 15, later became fashion editor of the New York Journal-American. She ran her own radio show, then quit that to marry Smith.

"He is my longest-term sponsor — 10 years. And being his wife is the best job I ever had," she says.

Along with her official duties as ambassador's wife, she is in the fashion business, designing her own line of party and hostess clothes for a New York manufacturer.

She is active in work with the women's clubs of Cuba, heads an organization of wives of embassy employes and takes every opportunity to talk to Cuban women.

"I don't understand why people worry about whether to choose marriage or a career. I've found being a wife merely multiplies careers—and all of them are more fun," she says.

Correction Is Made On Man's Discharge

It was incorrectly stated in The Circleville Herald's Tuesday edition that Claude Godby, 31, of 116 Pinckney St., received a dishonorable discharge from the armed forces.

Godby had been discharged from Joliet Prison, Ill., not dishonorably discharged from the armed services. He is awaiting sentence in Pickaway County Jail, after being found guilty of auto theft and grand larceny by a county Common Pleas jury.

Reports Give First Glimpse Of Recovery

Number of Industries Indicate Climb Back To Economic Normalcy

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—First glimpses of recovery are reported this week in a number of industries. Even with all the caution due such scattered and inconclusive signs they are heartening — especially since most of the statistics still are on the gloomy side.

Better times — or at least an end of the long decline — are sighted by executives in the steel, copper, electronics, building material, synthetic textile and even the railroad industries.

Steel leaders at the annual meeting here of the American Iron and Steel Institute sound almost cheerful.

Roger M. Blough, chairman of U. S. Steel, says demand for steel is rising, if only a bit, and April may have been the low point.

Arthur B. Homer, president of Bethlehem Steel, reports orders coming in better.

All the steel executives are worried, however, about the wage hike July 1 which many feel will mean a price hike, too — which could chill the tender boomlet before it gets well sprouted.

The copper men aren't reporting any pickup in demand yet — in fact, Phelps Dodge is cutting back production still further. But Clyde E. Weed, chairman of Anaconda, notes that his customers now are asking for immediate delivery, meaning their stocks are pretty well liquidated, and he interprets this to foreshadow increased demand in the third or fourth quarter.

A sharp pickup recently in demand for synethetic cloth is reported by Royal Little, chairman of Textron, with his company pretty well sold out for the rest of this quarter.

Significantly higher incoming orders are reported by Ralph J. Cordiner, chairman of General Electric. January and February proved to be his firm's worst months.

Freight loadings are scraping bottom now in the opinion of Lynne L. White, chairman of the Nickel Plate Railroad. He predicts a pickup in business in the near future.

"We turned the corner last month and expect slow improvement over the next 18 months," says Melvin H. Baker, chairman of National Gypsum. He echoes the optimisim that has been growing of late in the building materials industry.

There are still sales to be made and orders to be had, many companies are finding.

The first Ohio State sales tax went into effect in 1935.

The entire 241 miles of the Ohio Turnpike has been in operation since October, 1955.

The Woolworth Bldg., New York, and the Supreme Court Bldg., Washington, D. C. were designed by the architect Cass Gilbert of Zanesville, Ohio.

Ohio Gas Shortage Days Said Past

COLUMBUS (AP) — The days of fuel gas shortages in Ohio appear to be a thing of the past.

That is the opiniont oday of Paul E. Weiland, director of the Department of Utilities of the Utilities Commission, as the commission issued its latest order on ga supplie.

Since World War II, the commision periodically has probed the supply of gas available for Ohio homes and industries.

The new order noted that throughout the years Ohio gas distribution companies have built up huge underground reserves and have larger day-to-day supplies from gas fields.

Diptheria Total Hits Low in Ohio

COLUMBUS (AP) — Diphtheria reached an all-time low in Ohio last year, Dr. Ralph E. Dwork, Ohio health director, says.

Only 12 cases were reported during the entire year and there was one death, a middle-aged person who developed a heart condition along with the disease.

Last year, the department investigating one case in Allen County, discovered 22 germ carriers who were not ill themselves. Also, investigation of three cases in the Clermont-Hamilton-Warren counties area led to 17 carriers. They were treated to avoid the danger of their spreading the infection.

Ohio Gas Shortage Days Said Past

COLUMBUS (AP) — The days of fuel gas shortages in Ohio appear to be a thing of the past.

That is the opiniont oday of Paul E. Weiland, director of the Department of Utilities of the Utilities Commission, as the commission issued its latest order on ga supplie.

Since World War II, the commision periodically has probed the supply of gas available for Ohio homes and industries.

The new order noted that throughout the years Ohio gas distribution companies have built up huge underground reserves and have larger day-to-day supplies from gas fields.

Diptheria Total Hits Low in Ohio

COLUMBUS (AP) — Diphtheria reached an all-time low in Ohio last year, Dr. Ralph E. Dwork, Ohio health director, says.

Only 12 cases were reported during the entire year and there was one death, a middle-aged person who developed a heart condition along with the disease.

Last year, the department investigating one case in Allen County, discovered 22 germ carriers who were not ill themselves. Also, investigation of three cases in the Clermont-Hamilton-Warren counties area led to 17 carriers. They were treated to avoid the danger of their spreading the infection.

Ted Williams Answers Critics As Big Bat Booms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ted Williams has answered the critics again—the way he knows best—with a swish of his bat.

On Wednesday, after Williams had gone 0 for 5 the question was raised whether the 39-year-old Boston Red Sox slugger finally was showing his age. His batting average had dwindled to .225.

Thursday night he gave them the answer. Boston was trailing Kansas City 3-1 in the fourth inning. Jackie Jensen doubled and scored on Jimmy Piersall's single. A walk and Pete Runnels' scratch single loaded the bases. Williams quickly unloaded them with a home run, his fifth of the season and 461st of his career. The Red Sox went on to win 8-5.

The Grand-slammer was the 16th of Williams' career and broke a tie with Jimmy Foxx for third place. Lou Gehrig holds the major league record with 23. Babe Ruth is second with 17.

Kansas City's defeat forced a three-way tie with Cleveland and Baltimore for second place. The Indians defeated Washington 3-1 to reach the .500 mark, along with the Athletics and the Orioles. The Chicago White Sox climbed out of the cellar with a 5-1 triumph over Baltimore.

New York dumped Detroit into the basement, edging out the Tigers 5-4 for its ninth straight. The Tigers have lost eight in a league home run won for the Yankees, breaking a 4-4 tie in the ninth. He also had a double and drove in three runs.

Eighth inning doubles by Bobby Avila and Mickey Vernon and a single by Preston Ward produced two Cleveland runs and broke a 1-1 tie with the Senators. Jim (Mudcat) Grant pitched a six-hitter to win his fourth against two defeats. Truman (Tex) Clevenger was the loser.

Jim Wilson snapped a four-game Chicago losing streak, pitching a nine-hitter over Baltimore. The White Sox collected 9 of their 10 hits off loser Arnie Portocarrero.

Twice in a little over a week Philadelphia catcher Stan Lopata, has muffed a routine pop foul. Each time the opposition took advantage of the break to score the winning runs.

Chicago had two on and two out in the second inning Thursday night when Ernie Banks popped up. Lopata camped nonchalantly under it — and dropped it. Given a second chance, Banks walloped a three-run homer that supplied the Cubs' winning 7-4 margin.

On May 5 in Los Angeles, Philadelphia and the Dodgers were locked in a 5-5 deadlock in the 14th inning. Los Angeles had two out. Charlie Neal popped a pitch up behind home plate. Lopata dropped it.

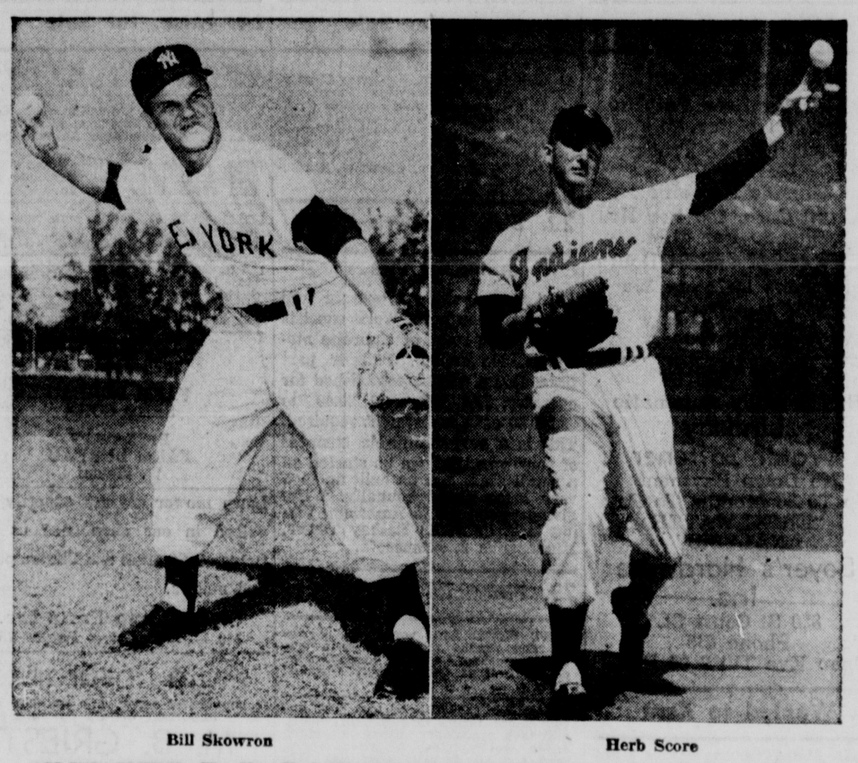

Neal then walked and scored the winning run on a single by Carl Furillo.

In the only other National League game Thursday night, Milwaukee trimmed San Francisco's first-place lead to a game and a half, defeating the Giants 9-3. Other games were rained out.

World Series hero Lew Burdette quieted all rumors of a possible bulpen demotion with a strong pitching effort.

The Braves' fidgety right-hander spaced eight hits for his fourth victory against three defeats. His only troublesome batter was Orlando Cepeda, who drove in two Giant runs with his 12th home run. The rookie first baseman also doubled and singled and scored the other Giant run.

Milwaukee made short work of Ruben Gomez, scoring six runs in the first two innings.

Bill Skowron — Herb Score

ARE THEY BRITTLE?—The New York Yankees, the Cleveland Indians, sports writers and baseball fans are beginning to wonder if these two stars are brittle. Bill Skowron, muscular Yankee first baseman, is on the shelf again with a bad back. Herb Score, ace leftie pitcher for the Indians, sprained his ankle playing basketball during spring training, and hasn't been able to pitch since April because of a sore elbow. (International)

More Drivers To Try for '500' Spots

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Almost half the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race field remains to be filled in final qualifications Saturday and Sunday.

Cliff Bergere, Indianapolis Motor Speedway mileage champion, figures the winner can come from either end of the 33-car lineup.

Bergere, who survived 16 Memorial Day races and 6,545½ miles of competitive driving on the big track, looked over the entries today on his annual return as a spectator and opined:

"Jimmy Bryan is about due to win, especially since he has Sam Hanks' 1957 winning car."

Then he hurriedly added, as a loyal Miami resident:

"So is Jim Rathmann."

Bryan, the National Big Car champion from Phoenix, qualified the horizontal engine Belond Special last weekend at 144.185 miles an hour for a good starting spot in the third row.

Rathmann, whose brother Dick set a qualifying record of 145.974 for the No. 1 starting spot, is driving the car owned by fellow Miamian Lindsey Hopkins in which Jim finished a close second to Hanks last year. It has been cranky this year and Jim didn't qualify last weekend. He also was a late qualifier last year.

Scholastic Baseball Stars To Be in Limelight Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two scholastic stars, pitcher Doug Gallagher of Fremont Ross and speedking Dave Mills of Lakewood, will be in the spotlight this weekend as Ohio's high schools settle spring sports championships.

Gallagher, left-handed hurler for the Little Giant, has a pair of no-hit games, two one-hitters and a three-hitter to his credit. A flock of scouts are expected to be on hand as he goes against Barberton's Magics in today's Class AA baseball semi-finals. The other game pits Cincinnati Elder's four-time champions against Euclid, with the winners meeting Saturday afternoon for the crown won a year ago by Reading.

Mills, defending quarter - mile champion, will go after the state record of 48 seconds set 10 years ago by Gene Cole of Lancaster. Mills ran the 440-yard event in 46.8 seconds in the district qualifier. Cole made his record around one turn, and the same route is expected to be set up for Mills assault on the time barrier.

Qualifiers in hurdles, dashes and both relays are scheduled today in the 49th annual track-field meet, along with finals in the Class AA discus and the Class A shot, pole vault and broad jump. The other finals will be staged Saturday by qualifiers from 719 schools, with Springfield defending the Class AA title.

The Class A baseball semi-finals today send Northwestern of Wayne County (state basketball ten of Tuscarawas, and Elida of Allen against Goshen of Clermont, with the victors meeting Saturday morning for the title relinquished by Middleport.

Tennis preliminaries also were on tap today. Golf competition was delayed to Monday.

Tiger Game With McClain Is Canceled

Circleville's scheduled game with Greenfield was brought to a sudden halt when yesterday's tornado sent everybody scurring for home or shelter.

According to CHS Coach Dick Boyd the game will not be rescheduled, thus marking the end of the season for the Tigers.

The CHS diamond crew compiled a fine record this year by winning 13 and dropping three. The Tigers' sparkling effort also included the South Central Ohio League championship.

Circleville walked away with loop honors by winning nine games against no losses. Greenfield was the closest contender with five wins and three losses.

THE TIGERS swept all league opposition but dropped two games to Chillicothe and one to Columbus Rosary in the district tournament.

Here are the league standings:

COLUMBUS (AP) — Indiana, Purdue and Ohio State wore "co-favorite" tags today as the 41st Western Conference golf championship started at the Buckeye course. It's 72 holes of medal play.

The 60-player field, a half-dozen from each of the Big Ten schools, plays 36 holes today and 36 Saturday. The five low scores from each hrdlucmfwycmfetoaitAOINy etaoi university will count in the team title race, won last year by Wisconsin.

Bob Kepler, Ohio State's coach, rates the Hoosers and Bolermakers ahead of his team.

Lake Erie Bass Said Hitting

Ohio Fishing Status Labeled Fair, Good

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Smallmouth bass are hungry and plentiful in the fishermen's favorite Lake Erie haunts.

So said the state Department of Natural Resources in its weekly fishing forecast.

And you don't have to wait with bated breath for something to hit your baited hook. The division reports the bass are hitting on everything — artificial lures, minnows and worms.

In addition to the smallmouths, the anglers are having good success with perch, channel catfish and bullheads at Whites Landing, Sandusky Bay shipping channel, Cedar Point jetty, and such Bass Island area spots at Niagara Reef, Put-In-Bay and Marblehead.

Despite Thursday's rains, the division's sectional reports were:

NORTHWESTERN: Practically all waters in fair to good condition, with best fishing at Lake St. Marys, East Harbor and Oxbow Lake.

NORTHEASTERN: Everything normal, and bass, bluegills, carppies and catfish being taken. Pleasant Hill and Clearfork reservoirs in Richland County, and Lake Milton in Mahoning, reporting nice walleye catches.

EAST CENTRAL AND SOUTHEASTERN: Some streams in Belmont, Athens, Guernsey and Washington counties roily or muddy, but others normal. All lakes in good shape.

CENTRAL AND SOUTHERN: Barring heavier rains, fishing should be good in both lakes and streams. All counties, with exception of Marion and Morrow, report ideal water.

SOUTHWESTERN: Lakes and streams clear and normal, and fishing is good everywhere.

NL Chieftain's Ultimatum to LA Draws Sharp Jab

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A threat by the National League president to shift the Dodgers from Los Angeles unless voters approve a stadium site next month brought this reaction:

"The last desperate threat of a frightened group of greedy men."

The ultimatum was delivered Thursday by League President Warren C. Giles who told sports writers that if Los Angeles voters turn down the Dodger contract June 3 "it will be my personal recommendation to our league that we take immediate steps to study ways and means of relocating the franchise in another city."

Michigan State has a new 18-hole golf course.

Tribe Learns To Win in Late Innings

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians are developing a habit—a good one at that—of winning the close games in the late innings.

They did it again Thursday night, pushing across two runs on a pair of eighth-inning doubles by Bobby Avila and Mickey Vernon around a single by Preston Ward. It was enough to break a 1-1 deadlock and provide a 3-1 victory over the Washington Senators.

Those late inning rallies are beginning to be a 1958 Tribe specialty. Cleveland has won eight games that way.

The victory put the Indians in a three-way tie for second place in the American League with Kansas City and Baltimore.

It also evened Cleveland's season record at 17-17 and was the second straight game in which a Tribe hurler has gone the distance. Dick Tomanek went 12 innings Wednesday and Jim Grant went nine Thursday night.

Grant, back on the beam again after two defeats, pitched a six-hitter to register the fourth triumph of his rookie season.

The Indians managed six hits off starter Camilio Pascual and Truman Clevenger. One was Billy Harrell's second home run of the season—a shot in the left field seats in the third inning.

Cal McLish pitches tonight against Pedro Ramos.

French Champ Due To Meet Busso

NEW YORK (AP)—The parade of foreign fighters chasing the Yankee dollar continues tonight at Madison Square Garden. Lahouari Godih of Paris meets New York's Johnny Busso.

Until he fought in Washington last month for $4,000 plus television pay, the biggest purse the French lightweight champ ever drew was about $2,500. He gets another $4,000-plus for his 10-round match.

Television viewers who saw Godih scamper past Larry Baker in his American debut at Washington will get another look against an opponent who is ranked No. 5.

Ted Williams Answers Critics As Big Bat Booms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ted Williams has answered the critics again—the way he knows best—with a swish of his bat.

On Wednesday, after Williams had gone 0 for 5 the question was raised whether the 39-year-old Boston Red Sox slugger finally was showing his age. His batting average had dwindled to .225.

Thursday night he gave them the answer. Boston was trailing Kansas City 3-1 in the fourth inning. Jackie Jensen doubled and scored on Jimmy Piersall's single. A walk and Pete Runnels' scratch single loaded the bases. Williams quickly unloaded them with a home run, his fifth of the season and 461st of his career. The Red Sox went on to win 8-5.

The Grand-slammer was the 16th of Williams' career and broke a tie with Jimmy Foxx for third place. Lou Gehrig holds the major league record with 23. Babe Ruth is second with 17.

Kansas City's defeat forced a three-way tie with Cleveland and Baltimore for second place. The Indians defeated Washington 3-1 to reach the .500 mark, along with the Athletics and the Orioles. The Chicago White Sox climbed out of the cellar with a 5-1 triumph over Baltimore.

New York dumped Detroit into the basement, edging out the Tigers 5-4 for its ninth straight. The Tigers have lost eight in a league home run won for the Yankees, breaking a 4-4 tie in the ninth. He also had a double and drove in three runs.

Eighth inning doubles by Bobby Avila and Mickey Vernon and a single by Preston Ward produced two Cleveland runs and broke a 1-1 tie with the Senators. Jim (Mudcat) Grant pitched a six-hitter to win his fourth against two defeats. Truman (Tex) Clevenger was the loser.

Jim Wilson snapped a four-game Chicago losing streak, pitching a nine-hitter over Baltimore. The White Sox collected 9 of their 10 hits off loser Arnie Portocarrero.

Twice in a little over a week Philadelphia catcher Stan Lopata, has muffed a routine pop foul. Each time the opposition took advantage of the break to score the winning runs.

Chicago had two on and two out in the second inning Thursday night when Ernie Banks popped up. Lopata camped nonchalantly under it — and dropped it. Given a second chance, Banks walloped a three-run homer that supplied the Cubs' winning 7-4 margin.

On May 5 in Los Angeles, Philadelphia and the Dodgers were locked in a 5-5 deadlock in the 14th inning. Los Angeles had two out. Charlie Neal popped a pitch up behind home plate. Lopata dropped it.

Neal then walked and scored the winning run on a single by Carl Furillo.

In the only other National League game Thursday night, Milwaukee trimmed San Francisco's first-place lead to a game and a half, defeating the Giants 9-3. Other games were rained out.

World Series hero Lew Burdette quieted all rumors of a possible bulpen demotion with a strong pitching effort.

The Braves' fidgety right-hander spaced eight hits for his fourth victory against three defeats. His only troublesome batter was Orlando Cepeda, who drove in two Giant runs with his 12th home run. The rookie first baseman also doubled and singled and scored the other Giant run.

Milwaukee made short work of Ruben Gomez, scoring six runs in the first two innings.

More Drivers To Try for '500' Spots

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Almost half the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race field remains to be filled in final qualifications Saturday and Sunday.

Cliff Bergere, Indianapolis Motor Speedway mileage champion, figures the winner can come from either end of the 33-car lineup.

Bergere, who survived 16 Memorial Day races and 6,545½ miles of competitive driving on the big track, looked over the entries today on his annual return as a spectator and opined:

"Jimmy Bryan is about due to win, especially since he has Sam Hanks' 1957 winning car."

Then he hurriedly added, as a loyal Miami resident:

"So is Jim Rathmann."

Bryan, the National Big Car champion from Phoenix, qualified the horizontal engine Belond Special last weekend at 144.185 miles an hour for a good starting spot in the third row.

Rathmann, whose brother Dick set a qualifying record of 145.974 for the No. 1 starting spot, is driving the car owned by fellow Miamian Lindsey Hopkins in which Jim finished a close second to Hanks last year. It has been cranky this year and Jim didn't qualify last weekend. He also was a late qualifier last year.

Herb Score

ARE THEY BRITTLE?—The New York Yankees, the Cleveland Indians, sports writers and baseball fans are beginning to wonder if these two stars are brittle. Bill Skowron, muscular Yankee first baseman, is on the shelf again with a bad back. Herb Score, ace leftie pitcher for the Indians, sprained his ankle playing basketball during spring training, and hasn't been able to pitch since April because of a sore elbow. (International)

Scholastic Baseball Stars To Be in Limelight Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two scholastic stars, pitcher Doug Gallagher of Fremont Ross and speedking Dave Mills of Lakewood, will be in the spotlight this weekend as Ohio's high schools settle spring sports championships.

Gallagher, left-handed hurler for the Little Giant, has a pair of no-hit games, two one-hitters and a three-hitter to his credit. A flock of scouts are expected to be on hand as he goes against Barberton's Magics in today's Class AA baseball semi-finals. The other game pits Cincinnati Elder's four-time champions against Euclid, with the winners meeting Saturday afternoon for the crown won a year ago by Reading.

Mills, defending quarter - mile champion, will go after the state record of 48 seconds set 10 years ago by Gene Cole of Lancaster. Mills ran the 440-yard event in 46.8 seconds in the district qualifier. Cole made his record around one turn, and the same route is expected to be set up for Mills assault on the time barrier.

Qualifiers in hurdles, dashes and both relays are scheduled today in the 49th annual track-field meet, along with finals in the Class AA discus and the Class A shot, pole vault and broad jump. The other finals will be staged Saturday by qualifiers from 719 schools, with Springfield defending the Class AA title.

The Class A baseball semi-finals today send Northwestern of Wayne County (state basketball ten of Tuscarawas, and Elida of Allen against Goshen of Clermont, with the victors meeting Saturday morning for the title relinquished by Middleport.

Tennis preliminaries also were on tap today. Golf competition was delayed to Monday.

Tiger Game With McClain Is Canceled

Circleville's scheduled game with Greenfield was brought to a sudden halt when yesterday's tornado sent everybody scurring for home or shelter.

According to CHS Coach Dick Boyd the game will not be rescheduled, thus marking the end of the season for the Tigers.

The CHS diamond crew compiled a fine record this year by winning 13 and dropping three. The Tigers' sparkling effort also included the South Central Ohio League championship.

Circleville walked away with loop honors by winning nine games against no losses. Greenfield was the closest contender with five wins and three losses.

THE TIGERS swept all league opposition but dropped two games to Chillicothe and one to Columbus Rosary in the district tournament.

Here are the league standings:

Lake Erie Bass Said Hitting

Ohio Fishing Status Labeled Fair, Good

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Smallmouth bass are hungry and plentiful in the fishermen's favorite Lake Erie haunts.

So said the state Department of Natural Resources in its weekly fishing forecast.

And you don't have to wait with bated breath for something to hit your baited hook. The division reports the bass are hitting on everything — artificial lures, minnows and worms.

In addition to the smallmouths, the anglers are having good success with perch, channel catfish and bullheads at Whites Landing, Sandusky Bay shipping channel, Cedar Point jetty, and such Bass Island area spots at Niagara Reef, Put-In-Bay and Marblehead.

Despite Thursday's rains, the division's sectional reports were:

NORTHEASTERN: Everything normal, and bass, bluegills, carppies and catfish being taken. Pleasant Hill and Clearfork reservoirs in Richland County, and Lake Milton in Mahoning, reporting nice walleye catches.

EAST CENTRAL AND SOUTHEASTERN: Some streams in Belmont, Athens, Guernsey and Washington counties roily or muddy, but others normal. All lakes in good shape.

CENTRAL AND SOUTHERN: Barring heavier rains, fishing should be good in both lakes and streams. All counties, with exception of Marion and Morrow, report ideal water.

SOUTHWESTERN: Lakes and streams clear and normal, and fishing is good everywhere.

NL Chieftain's Ultimatum to LA Draws Sharp Jab

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A threat by the National League president to shift the Dodgers from Los Angeles unless voters approve a stadium site next month brought this reaction:

"The last desperate threat of a frightened group of greedy men."

The ultimatum was delivered Thursday by League President Warren C. Giles who told sports writers that if Los Angeles voters turn down the Dodger contract June 3 "it will be my personal recommendation to our league that we take immediate steps to study ways and means of relocating the franchise in another city."

Michigan State has a new 18-hole golf course.

Tribe Learns To Win in Late Innings

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians are developing a habit—a good one at that—of winning the close games in the late innings.

They did it again Thursday night, pushing across two runs on a pair of eighth-inning doubles by Bobby Avila and Mickey Vernon around a single by Preston Ward. It was enough to break a 1-1 deadlock and provide a 3-1 victory over the Washington Senators.

Those late inning rallies are beginning to be a 1958 Tribe specialty. Cleveland has won eight games that way.

The victory put the Indians in a three-way tie for second place in the American League with Kansas City and Baltimore.

It also evened Cleveland's season record at 17-17 and was the second straight game in which a Tribe hurler has gone the distance. Dick Tomanek went 12 innings Wednesday and Jim Grant went nine Thursday night.

Grant, back on the beam again after two defeats, pitched a six-hitter to register the fourth triumph of his rookie season.

The Indians managed six hits off starter Camilio Pascual and Truman Clevenger. One was Billy Harrell's second home run of the season—a shot in the left field seats in the third inning.

Cal McLish pitches tonight against Pedro Ramos.

French Champ Due To Meet Busso

NEW YORK (AP)—The parade of foreign fighters chasing the Yankee dollar continues tonight at Madison Square Garden. Lahouari Godih of Paris meets New York's Johnny Busso.

Until he fought in Washington last month for $4,000 plus television pay, the biggest purse the French lightweight champ ever drew was about $2,500. He gets another $4,000-plus for his 10-round match.

Television viewers who saw Godih scamper past Larry Baker in his American debut at Washington will get another look against an opponent who is ranked No. 5.

New Aerial Safety Rules Put into Force

President Orders 5-Point Program Pending Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal agencies moved today to put into quick operation emergency rules aimed at preventing any more collisions between swift military jets and civilian aircraft.

President Eisenhower Thursday ordered a five-point program, pending a long-range air safety plan expected to be ready in about three months. Some emergency rules will become effective within a few days.

Eisenhower's emergency orders were issued after he had conferred with members of a House appropriations subcommittee. A day earlier that group had demanded such emergency measures, but had been turned down by federal aviation officials.

Details of the five-point safety program were announced after the White House meeting by Rep. Prince H. Preston (D-Ga), chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee. It requires that:

1. JET TRAINER planes flown by student pilots on civilian airways must operate under instrument flight rules, Preston said such aircraft now operate under visual flight rules except at night and in bad weather.

2. Military jet trainers must stay off civilian airways when traveling from higher to lower altitudes.

3. Jet panes on cross-country and similar flights must file flight plans with the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

4. Jet trainer pilots must keep away from civilian airways in making proficiency flights.

5. Operational flights must be made on civilian airways under instrument flight rules and CAA control.

Government records show that there were 24 near-collisions if aircraft over Ohio in 1957.

So says the Civil Aeronautics Board, which collects information about near-misses in the air.

The breakdown of the reported near-collisions in Ohio last year shows this:

Twelve involved two civil planes; eight involved a military and civil plane; three were two military planes; and one was a military plane and an aircraft of unknown description.

CAPITAL Airlines, which serves Youngstown, Akron and Cleveland on New York-Chicago and Philadelphia-Chicago runs, has demonstrated increasing concern over the air safety question.

Capital's president, David H. Baker, Thursday demanded tighter regulations over military flying following a report of a close call over the Toledo area by a Capital pilot.

The near-miss was between a Capital plane and an Air Force B47 jet bomber.

Delay Hinted In Calling of Ohio Assembly

GOP Leaders Say O'Neill Awaits SUB Action in Congress

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill probably will wait for congressional action on extending jobless benefit funds before setting the date for a special session of the Legislature, two Republican leaders say.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens), Senate majority leader, and Rep. Roger Cloud (R-Logan), House speaker, said O'Neill indicated this before he left for Miami Beach, Fla., last week to attend the National Governors' Conference.

The governor announced Monday that he plans to call a special session to deal mainly with extension of jobless benefits. No dates have been set, however.

In Thursday's statement, the two GOP leaders took a strong stand against action of supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB). They said Ohio law permits SUB payments under certain union-management contracts, without deducting them from state jobless benefits, and that other Sub contracts, rather than the law, should be changed.

Mechem and Cloud pointed out that the GOP-dominated regular session of the Legislature last year took that position and they see no reason for a change in sentiment.

The legislators said they approved of plans to call the special session which O'Neill said will be asked to extend the period of state jobless benefits from 26 to 39 weeks, ban billboards along interstate highways and revise sewer and water laws to aid rural extensions.

The leaders said they hoped to avoid federal intervention in the state unemployment insurance program.

But they said they would not be opposed to federal aid if Congress made available a portion of the excess funds paid under the federal unemployment tax on employers before passage of the Reed bill. That bill provided that such funds be specifically credited to individual states.

They said it then would be wise for Ohio to accept such federal aid to defray the cost of extending unemployment benefits, since such funds had been paid by Ohio employers originally.

The Reed bill credited payment to individual states in the early 1950s, leaving uncredited excess funds, accumulated before then, available. The excess funds amount to about 800 million dollars with Ohio's share about 90 millions.

If Congress does not make available the funds, the state has a reserve of money so that financing the proposed extension of jobless benefits can be accomplished (1) without any general taxation and (2) without borrowing from the federal government, the two lawmakers stated.

The reserve, already paid by Ohio employers, is in the state unemployment insurance fund of some 543 million dollars.

8 Nike Missiles Blow, Killing 10

MIDDLETOWN, N. J. (AP) — Investigators searched a Nike base near here today to learn what caused eight fully armed missiles to blow up in a furious mushroom of fire and death.

The explosion Thursday killed 10 persons and scattered explosive warheads across a wide area of the countryside.

The disaster, described by a general as an accident that could not happen but did, was set off by a single missile that exploded.

A split-second chain reaction turned the entire area into a flaming pit of destruction.

Mangled bodies and fragments lay strewn about where a moment before men had stood. The disintegration of the victims made it difficult to establish identities.

The dead included six soldiers and four civilians.

Three others were injured, one seriously.

THE MISSILES, known as the Ajax type, exploded at about 1:20 p. m. while a team of experts was working on them. They were to be replaced next year by Hercules missiles capable of carrying atomic warheads.

Brig. Gen. Charles Duff of the Army Defense Command said ordinance experts had found that all of the eight missiles had left the launching area, flying various distances.

A 12-foot section of one missile landed in a backyard three-quarters of a mile away.

Patrolman Daniel Murdoch, one of the first at the scene, told of "the horror of seeing men, their bodies still afire, and the head of at least one of the men blown away by the explosion."

The Army flew in three inspectors from the office of the chief of ordnance in Washington to investigate the explosion. What set it off may never be known.

Residents of this area had protested in vain against erection of the installation 18 months ago. The Army had told the public no such accident was possible and that the missiles would only be fired in case of war.

Windows were shattered and doors blown in a mile or more from the explosion scene. One woman was blown out of a chair in the living room of her home.

The Ajax, about 32 feet long and a foot in diameter, weighs about a ton and is designed to bring down enemy aircraft at altitudes of up to 60,000 feet.

The base here is one of a number that ring the New York metropolitan area from New Jersey to Long Island.

Refinery Fire Danger Grows

Poisonous Fuel Tank Is Guarded Closely

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Firemen battled today to prevent a devastating oil refinery blaze from setting off an 860,000-gallon tank of poisonous tetraethyl lead.

Flames shot high over oil-rich Signal Hill all night, raging through the $25 million Hancock Oil Co. refinery.

Two workmen were killed, trapped in rivers of burning oil and gasoline.

Firemen contained the flames within the refinery grounds during the night.

The main remaining peril was the tetraethyl lead tank.

Firemen said if that tank bursts the entire area downwind will have to be cleared of peope.

New trouble beset the firemen today when water pressure failed. Signal Hill wells from which they had been getting water for their hoses apparently were exhausted.

AN EFFORT was made to try to hook into Long Beach City lines but this posed a serious problem because of the distance.

Torrents of blazing oil from a ruptured tank set off a series of earth-shaking explosions Thursday afternoon.

Workers sprinted for their lives as 14 tanks blew up one by one.

Four hundred patients were evacuated from Long Beach Hospital and the Air Force Base there was evacuated.

Meat Experts Explain Why Prices Up 25 Pct. over '57

CHICAGO (AP) — A housewife gazed dubiously at a pink and white pork loin in the butcher case.

"I don't believe it," she said. "You say 75 cents a pound for the loin half?"

She grumbled a bit and bought the loin.

Also in this particular case was a blade pot roast at 49 cents, the day's featured item. But choice round steak was 89 cents a pound; lamb shoulder chops were 79, and steer liver 59.

In New York shops, prices were higher. In Baltimore, they were lower. In Los Angeles they were lower, except for pork.

The American Meat Institute affirmed that housewives are paying more for meat than they were a year ago, and the rise in prices for pork and beef has been dramatic in the last two months. Meat prices are about 25 per cent higher than a year ago.

Why the dramatic upswing in prices charged by the butcher?

The AMI pointed to government marketing statistics. Meat supplies at the stockyards have been 10 per cent less than a year ago on the average. But Americans are buying more meat than last year.

Behind the generally spare marketing of livestock, market men say there are motives which have a lot to do with the weather, or, more specifically, rain.

Cattlemen who had been running thin range herds because of drought and sparse forage in the Southwest were confronted with lush grass range this year resulting from ample winter rains. Until recently they held stock on the range to build up their herds.

Feed, especially grain feed for both cattle and hogs, is plentiful and low in cost. So, many cattle which might have been shipped to market with little weight feeding are being held longer to bring in better prices because of greater weights and improved class.

3 Ticklish Land-Buying Deals Completed by Highway Aides

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three ticklish Ohio Department of Highways land-buying cases are finished and a fourth is on its way toward completion.

The cases involve land owned by department employes which the department has acquired for the North-South Freeway (Ohio 1).

In each case, the department, following a previously-announced policy, filed court suit to acquire the land.

William Smith, an employe in the right-of-way office in Columbus which acquires land for the department, received the largest amount.

He picked up $20,168 for a bit more than 11 acres the department took from his 24 acres west of nearby Westerville. Smith paid $7,000 for the 24 acres in 1946. The price paid him includes both the value of the land taken and damage to remaining land.

Robert Sample, who works in the department's division 6 office at Delaware, received $11,854 for a bit more than 10 acres of land acquired by the department. Sample purchased 64 acres of land at the intersection of Ohio 61 and 229 in Morrow County in 1956 for $22,500. The department price also includes damages.

Clarence West, who works in the department's Morrow County garage, paid $5,000 for 88.6 acres of land in 1951, on Harmony Twp. Road 232 in Morrow County. He picked up $2,696 for 3.13 acres the department needed. The price included damages to the rest of the land.

The department is about to deposit $1,992 with Ashland Common Pleas Court to cover the cost of 6.73 acres of land owned by John Halliwill, employe of the department's division 3 office at Ashland. The property is on Ashland County Road 50. Halliwill has 160 acres. He bought 70 acres of the land in 1947 for $15,500. Price of the rest of the land is not available.

Judge Rules On Non-Union 'Dues' Pay

CROWN POINT, Ind. (AP) — Employes can be compelled by contract to pay the equivalent of union dues even though they cannot be required to join a union, a judge ruled here Thursday.

Judge Joseph V. Stodola denied a petition by the Meade Electric Co. of Hammond for an injunction against the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

The company sought to prevent the IBEW from including in a proposed contract a clause requiring nonmembers to pay an equal amount to that paid by members of the union.

Judge Stodola ruled the proposed clause does not violate the 1957 Indiana right-to-work law, which prohibits causes making union membership a condition of employment.

"This payment of the fair share of representation is completely distinct and substantially different from compulsory membership in a union," he said.

MIDDLETOWN, N. J. (AP)—An unidentified man was showing a prospective buyer through his home Thursday when the furious blast of eight Nike missiles shook the area. The prospect hurriedly drove off.

Two drivers today appeared before acting Circleville Municipal Court Judge Earl Smith for traffic violations.

Woodrow Wilson Glaman, 40, Webster City, Iowa, was fined $10 and costs for failure to stop at a red light. Arrest was made by city police.

John Wesley Jones, 35, Ashland, Ky., received a fine of $25 and costs and lost his driving rights for six months for reckless operation. The State Highway Patrol made the arrest.

Top Salary Last Year: $623,336

NEW YORK (AP) — The upward trend in executive pay slowed to a crawl in 1957, a survey by Business Week magazine shows.

Leading the corporate pay parade was Arthur B. Homer, president of Bethlehem Steel Corp., who was paid $623,336 in salary and bonuses before taxes.

By contrast, the magazine noted no fewer than three executives received $700,000 or more in 1955 and one, Eugene Grace, got $809,000 in 1956. Grace retired last year as Bethlehem Steel's chairman.

Grace's pay last year (he became honorary board chairman following his retirement as chief executive officer) was cut to $619,036. This made him the second highest paid man in the U.S.

Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors Corp. and third highest on the list, also took a cut from $695,100 in salary and bonus in 1956 to $558,875 last year.

All told, Business Week said, 33 executives were paid 300,000 or more during 1957. Twenty-one of these work for two corporations, Bethlehem Steel and GM.

6-Month Aid Bill Nearly $1 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower reported today that nearly $1 billion in weapons and military equipment were shipped to overseas allies during the last six months of 1957.

Reporting to Congress on the government's foreign aid program, he said that the new deliveries boosted to $17 billion the amount of military aid given friendly countries since 1950.

About 45 per cent of the latest shipments went to the Far East. European countries got 30 per cent and other areas the remainder.

Weapons included tanks, artillery, armored vehicles, ammunition, communications equipment, ships and jet aircraft. But Eisenhower said weapons alone will not provide adequate security for free nations.

"It is not enough," he said, "for the nations of the free world to be strong in their defenses. Strength, security and justice are needed in other areas: in business and economic affairs, in political and social institutions, in opportunities for education and in the growth of individuals in mind and spirit."

EISENHOWER submitted a 32-page report, along with a covering letter, which stressed the economic development programs the United States was sponsoring to build a solid financial footing for Allies countries.

Among the economic aid projects he cited were power dams in South Korea, Formosa and Turkey, highway development in Viet Nam, and a railroad improvement plan in India.

New projects undertaken, he reported, were surveys of the Blue Nile River basin in Ethiopia, the start of an international airport in afghanistan, technical surveys of development plans in the Sudan and an engineering study of a radio-telephone system in Nepal.

Eisenhower's new foreign aid program, temporarily $6 million bigger than when he submitted it, faces possible trimming today by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The committee in the last two days tentatively raised military assistance funds from the $1.6 billion voted by the House to the $1.8 billion Eisenhower asked. It approved $835 million for defense economic supports for military allies. The House had voted 775 million.

The committee is working on an authorization bill for Eisenhower's $3.9 billion program, which already has been passed by the House. Actual money for the program must await an appropriation bill on which a House subcommittee has been working.

Twin Crypts Are Readied

2 Unknown Fighters Due To Be Honored

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twin crypts, carved into the marble plaza of Arlington Cemetery's famous tomb, are ready to receive the bodies of the two unknown fighting men who died in America's two latest wars.

There on Memorial Day the nameless heroes of World War II and Korea will be entombed, their crypts each two paces from the resting place of World War I's Unknown Soldier.

A full-scale rehearsal Thursday for the May 30 ceremony included placing caskets over the open crypts.

The rehearsal also included the reading, for the first time, of the citations which will accompany the Medals of Honor for the two unknowns, to be conferred by President Eisenhower in the funeral ceremony preceding the burials.

The citations for awards of the nation's highest military decoration are both brief.

ONE SAYS that a grateful nation bestows its honor upon "the unknown American of the second world war, exemplifying the selflessness of all our fallen heroes of the second world war who, in courageous defense of the ideals of democracy against aggression, gave their lives to preserve our noble heritage."

The other confers the medal upon "the unknown American of the Korean conflict, symbolic of the gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty of all members of the armed forces of the United States who gave their lives in the Korean conflict while defending the ideals of freedom and democracy."

White wooden covers now protect the crypts, but after the burial next week they will be replaced with massive marble slabs.

New Aerial Safety Rules Put into Force

President Orders 5-Point Program Pending Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal agencies moved today to put into quick operation emergency rules aimed at preventing any more collisions between swift military jets and civilian aircraft.

President Eisenhower Thursday ordered a five-point program, pending a long-range air safety plan expected to be ready in about three months. Some emergency rules will become effective within a few days.

Eisenhower's emergency orders were issued after he had conferred with members of a House appropriations subcommittee. A day earlier that group had demanded such emergency measures, but had been turned down by federal aviation officials.

Details of the five-point safety program were announced after the White House meeting by Rep. Prince H. Preston (D-Ga), chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee. It requires that:

1. JET TRAINER planes flown by student pilots on civilian airways must operate under instrument flight rules. Preston said such aircraft now operate under visual flight rules except at night and in bad weather.

2. Military jet trainers must stay off civilian airways when traveling from higher to lower altitudes.

3. Jet panes on cross-country and similar flights must file flight plans with the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

4. Jet trainer pilots must keep away from civilian airways in making proficiency flights.

5. Operational flights must be made on civilian airways under instrument flight rules and CAA control.

Government records show that there were 24 near-collisions if aircraft over Ohio in 1957.

So says the Civil Aeronautics Board, which collects information about near-misses in the air.

The breakdown of the reported near-collisions in Ohio last year shows this:

Twelve involved two civil planes; eight involved a military and civil plane; three were two military planes; and one was a military plane and an aircraft of unknown description.

CAPITAL Airlines, which serves Youngstown, Akron and Cleveland on New York-Chicago and Philadelphia-Chicago runs, has demonstrated increasing concern over the air safety question.

Capital's president, David H. Baker, Thursday demanded tighter regulations over military flying following a report of a close call over the Toledo area by a Capital pilot.

The near-miss was between a Capital plane and an Air Force B47 jet bomber.

Judge Rules On Non-Union 'Dues' Pay

CROWN POINT, Ind. (AP) — Employes can be compelled by contract to pay the equivalent of union dues even though they cannot be required to join a union, a judge ruled here Thursday.

Judge Joseph V. Stodola denied a petition by the Meade Electric Co. of Hammond for an injunction against the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

The company sought to prevent the IBEW from including in a proposed contract a clause requiring nonmembers to pay an equal amount to that paid by members of the union.

Judge Stodola ruled the proposed clause does not violate the 1957 Indiana right-to-work law, which prohibits causes making union membership a condition of employment.

"This payment of the fair share of representation is completely distinct and substantially different from compulsory membership in a union," he said.

Meat Experts Explain Why Prices Up 25 Pct. over '57

CHICAGO (AP) — A housewife gazed dubiously at a pink and white pork loin in the butcher case.

"I don't believe it," she said. "You say 75 cents a pound for the loin half?"

She grumbled a bit and bought the loin.

Also in this particular case was a blade pot roast at 49 cents, the day's featured item. But choice round steak was 89 cents a pound; lamb shoulder chops were 79, and steer liver 59.

In New York shops, prices were higher. In Baltimore, they were lower. In Los Angeles they were lower, except for pork.

The American Meat Institute affirmed that housewives are paying more for meat than they were a year ago, and the rise in prices for pork and beef has been dramatic in the last two months. Meat prices are about 25 per cent higher than a year ago.

Why the dramatic upswing in prices charged by the butcher?

The AMI pointed to government marketing statistics. Meat supplies at the stockyards have been 10 per cent less than a year ago on the average. But Americans are buying more meat than last year.

Behind the generally spare marketing of livestock, market men say there are motives which have a lot to do with the weather, or, more specifically, rain.

Cattlemen who had been running thin range herds because of drought and sparse forage in the Southwest were confronted with lush grass range this year resulting from ample winter rains. Until recently they held stock on the range to build up their herds.

Feed, especially grain feed for both cattle and hogs, is plentiful and low in cost. So, many cattle which might have been shipped to market with little weight feeding are being held longer to bring in better prices because of greater weights and improved class.

3 Ticklish Land-Buying Deals Completed by Highway Aides

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three ticklish Ohio Department of Highways land-buying cases are finished and a fourth is on its way toward completion.

The cases involve land owned by department employes which the department has acquired for the North-South Freeway (Ohio 1).

In each case, the department, following a previously-announced policy, filed court suit to acquire the land.

William Smith, an employe in the right-of-way office in Columbus which acquires land for the department, received the largest amount.

He picked up $20,168 for a bit more than 11 acres the department took from his 24 acres west of nearby Westerville. Smith paid $7,000 for the 24 acres in 1946. The price paid him includes both the value of the land taken and damage to remaining land.

Robert Sample, who works in the department's division 6 office at Delaware, received $11,854 for a bit more than 10 acres of land acquired by the department. Sample purchased 64 acres of land at the intersection of Ohio 61 and 229 in Morrow County in 1956 for $22,500. The department price also includes damages.

Clarence West, who works in the department's Morrow County garage, paid $5,000 for 88.6 acres of land in 1951, on Harmony Twp. Road 232 in Morrow County. He picked up $2,696 for 3.13 acres the department needed. The price included damages to the rest of the land.

The department is about to deposit $1,992 with Ashland Common Pleas Court to cover the cost of 6.73 acres of land owned by John Halliwill, employe of the department's division 3 office at Ashland. The property is on Ashland County Road 50. Halliwill has 160 acres. He bought 70 acres of the land in 1947 for $15,500. Price of the rest of the land is not available.

Delay Hinted In Calling of Ohio Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill probably will wait for congressional action on extending jobless benefit funds before setting the date for a special session of the Legislature, two Republican leaders say.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens), Senate majority leader, and Rep. Roger Cloud (R-Logan), House speaker, said O'Neill indicated this before he left for Miami Beach, Fla., last week to attend the National Governors' Conference.

The governor announced Monday that he plans to call a special session to deal mainly with extension of jobless benefits. No dates have been set, however.

In Thursday's statement, the two GOP leaders took a strong stand against action of supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB). They said Ohio law permits SUB payments under certain union-management contracts, without deducting them from state jobless benefits, and that other Sub contracts, rather than the law, should be changed.

Mechem and Cloud pointed out that the GOP-dominated regular session of the Legislature last year took that position and they see no reason for a change in sentiment.

The legislators said they approved of plans to call the special session which O'Neill said will be asked to extend the period of state jobless benefits from 26 to 39 weeks, ban billboards along interstate highways and revise sewer and water laws to aid rural extensions.

The leaders said they hoped to avoid federal intervention in the state unemployment insurance program.

But they said they would not be opposed to federal aid if Congress made available a portion of the excess funds paid under the federal unemployment tax on employers before passage of the Reed bill. That bill provided that such funds be specifically credited to individual states.

They said it then would be wise for Ohio to accept such federal aid to defray the cost of extending unemployment benefits, since such funds had been paid by Ohio employers originally.

The Reed bill credited payment to individual states in the early 1950s, leaving uncredited excess funds, accumulated before then, available. The excess funds amount to about 800 million dollars with Ohio's share about 90 millions.

If Congress does not make available the funds, the state has a reserve of money so that financing the proposed extension of jobless benefits can be accomplished (1) without any general taxation and (2) without borrowing from the federal government, the two lawmakers stated.

The reserve, already paid by Ohio employers, is in the state unemployment insurance fund of some 543 million dollars.

Top Salary Last Year: $623,336

NEW YORK (AP) — The upward trend in executive pay slowed to a crawl in 1957, a survey by Business Week magazine shows.

Leading the corporate pay parade was Arthur B. Homer, president of Bethlehem Steel Corp., who was paid $623,336 in salary and bonuses before taxes.

By contrast, the magazine noted no fewer than three executives received $700,000 or more in 1955 and one, Eugene Grace, got $809,000 in 1956. Grace retired last year as Bethlehem Steel's chairman.

Grace's pay last year (he became honorary board chairman following his retirement as chief executive officer) was cut to $619,036. This made him the second highest paid man in the U.S.

Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors Corp. and third highest on the list, also took a cut from $695,100 in salary and bonus in 1956 to $558,875 last year.

All told, Business Week said, 33 executives were paid 300,000 or more during 1957. Twenty-one of these work for two corporations, Bethlehem Steel and GM.

Motorists Fined In Muny Court

Two drivers today appeared before acting Circleville Municipal Court Judge Earl Smith for traffic violations.

Woodrow Wilson Glaman, 40, Webster City, Iowa, was fined $10 and costs for failure to stop at a red light. Arrest was made by city police.

John Wesley Jones, 35, Ashland, Ky., received a fine of $25 and costs and lost his driving rights for six months for reckless operation. The State Highway Patrol made the arrest.

6-Month Aid Bill Nearly $1 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower reported today that nearly $1 billion in weapons and military equipment were shipped to overseas allies during the last six months of 1957.

Reporting to Congress on the government's foreign aid program, he said that the new deliveries boosted to $17 billion the amount of military aid given friendly countries since 1950.

About 45 per cent of the latest shipments went to the Far East. European countries got 30 per cent and other areas the remainder.

Weapons included tanks, artillery, armored vehicles, ammunition, communications equipment, ships and jet aircraft. But Eisenhower said weapons alone will not provide adequate security for free nations.

"It is not enough," he said, "for the nations of the free world to be strong in their defenses. Strength, security and justice are needed in other areas: in business and economic affairs, in political and social institutions, in opportunities for education and in the growth of individuals in mind and spirit."

EISENHOWER submitted a 32-page report, along with a covering letter, which stressed the economic development programs the United States was sponsoring to build a solid financial footing for Allies countries.

Among the economic aid projects he cited were power dams in South Korea, Formosa and Turkey, highway development in Viet Nam, and a railroad improvement plan in India.

New projects undertaken, he reported, were surveys of the Blue Nile River basin in Ethiopia, the start of an international airport in afghanistan, technical surveys of development plans in the Sudan and an engineering study of a radio-telephone system in Nepal.

Eisenhower's new foreign aid program, temporarily $6 million bigger than when he submitted it, faces possible trimming today by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The committee in the last two days tentatively raised military assistance funds from the $1.6 billion voted by the House to the $1.8 billion Eisenhower asked. It approved $835 million for defense economic supports for military allies. The House had voted 775 million.

The committee is working on an authorization bill for Eisenhower's $3.9 billion program, which already has been passed by the House. Actual money for the program must await an appropriation bill on which a House subcommittee has been working.

Twin Crypts Are Readied

2 Unknown Fighters Due To Be Honored

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twin crypts, carved into the marble plaza of Arlington Cemetery's famous tomb, are ready to receive the bodies of the two unknown fighting men who died in America's two latest wars.

There on Memorial Day the nameless heroes of World War II and Korea will be entombed, their crypts each two paces from the resting place of World War I's Unknown Soldier.

A full-scale rehearsal Thursday for the May 30 ceremony included placing caskets over the open crypts.

The rehearsal also included the reading, for the first time, of the citations which will accompany the Medals of Honor for the two unknowns, to be conferred by President Eisenhower in the funeral ceremony preceding the burials.

The citations for awards of the nation's highest military decoration are both brief.

ONE SAYS that a grateful nation bestows its honor upon "the unknown American of the second world war, exemplifying the selflessness of all our fallen heroes of the second world war who, in courageous defense of the ideals of democracy against aggression, gave their lives to preserve our noble heritage."

The other confers the medal upon "the unknown American of the Korean conflict, symbolic of the gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty of all members of the armed forces of the United States who gave their lives in the Korean conflict while defending the ideals of freedom and democracy."

White wooden covers now protect the crypts, but after the burial next week they will be replaced with massive marble slabs.
